Soviets Kill 2,000 Troops in Hurling Back Orel Assaults

Burn or Disable Seventeen Tanks, Wreck Twelve Guns, Eighteen Mortars

LONDON, June 18 (CP).—Russia announced tonight that Soviet forces had killed more than 2,000 German troops in hurling back numerous enemy counter-attacks this week in the vital Orel sector, where the Nazis were reported using semi-trained reservists and rear-line troops.

In one area, northwest of Mtsensk, the Germans "drew forward reserves" today but "showed no activity," said the Moscow midnight communique recorded here by the Soviet radio monitor.

"In a few days of fighting in this sector the Germans lost over 2,000 in killed alone," the bulletin said.

"Our troops burned or disabled seventeen enemy tanks and destroyed twelve guns, eighteen mortars, including three six-barrel mortars, and over forty machine-guns."

The communique said the Russians shot down fifteen German planes during this fighting and captured prisoners and some material.

SHOOT DOWN TWENTY-FOUR PLANES

A Moscow broadcast said Russian airmen shot down twenty-four German planes which attempted twice to attack Volkhov, south of Leningrad, today. The Russians were said to have lost four planes.

A special Soviet announcement also said that Russian bombers raided a German airdrome near Leningrad today and followed up their Thursday night attack on an airfield in the Donets Basin with a daylight raid on the same field today.

The communique said Soviet air units Thursday destroyed or damaged about ten trucks carrying troops and supplies, blew up several ammunition dumps, smashed one train and partly wiped out a company of German infantry.

In the Minsk area, Russian guerillas were reported to have wrecked three German troop trains, destroying fifty-six cars carrying troops and equipment and killing many of the enemy soldiers.

Front-line dispatches reported earlier that the Nazis were using semi-trained reservists and rear-line units in their desperate thrusts to regain lost positions northwest of Mtsensk, forty miles north of Orel.

Opening of Frontier Adds Worry

Offensive Seems Ever Imminent

LONDON, June 18 (AP).—Reopening of the Turkish-Syrian frontier and Axis reports of large Allied troop concentrations in Syria boosted enemy worry today over the shaky "southeastern wall" in the Balkans, where the Germans were said to have sent strong reinforcements.

The Turkish-Syrian border was reopened at 8 a.m. Thursday after a forty-eight-hour news blackout but the Rome radio declared British authorities still were keeping sealed a sixty-two-mile airstich in Northern Syria and the Lebanon coastal area, designating it a military area.

The Germans have sent strong reinforcements to the Balkans, said a Stockholm report to Reuter's, and Rome warned the Allies that "the Bulgarian High Command began to examine the possibilities of an Allied landing on the Balkan coast near the end of the Tunisian campaign," and was ready for "any eventuality."

The German radio, quoting Swedish correspondents, said military experts in London believed the "probability" of an Allied offensive in the Eastern Mediterranean was "ever more imminent," with all the signs "now pointing to a coming Balkan offensive to be ushered in by attempts to conquer Crete and the Dodecanese."

CLAMP TIGHT LID ON GREECE

The Germans clamped tight the lid on Greece. The Morocco radio reported from Istanbul that machine-gun nests had been constructed every few miles on the Athens-Salonika railway.

A Budapest broadcast disclosed that for six weeks Yugoslav patriots, men and women, had besieged Gospic railway centre southeast of Fiume, and that the siege was finally broken by Italians using more than 200 planes and dropping fifteen tons of bombs. The guerrillas were reported to have used three tanks in their heaviest attack, lasting thirteen hours.

Axis nerves were jumpy in Sicily where, according to a Moscow broadcast heard by the Soviet monitor, the Italians were panic-stricken over withdrawal of military stores and food. Only enough was left for the minimum needs of the defenders.

Moscow, in a Tass agency dispatch from Geneva, said Marshal Albert Kesselring had been made commander of all Axis air forces in the "southern defensive area," with the general staff of the Italian air force abolished because the Italian force had "displayed utter confusion and helplessness during recent operations in the Central Mediterranean and over Southern Italy."

Former Farms Of Japanese For Veterans

Fraser Valley Parcels Sold to Director

OTTAWA, June 18 (CP) — State Secretary McLarty announced tonight that 789 parcels of farm land in the Fraser Valley area of British Columbia, formerly owned by Japanese, have been sold to the director of the Veterans' Land Act for future disposition to British Columbia men now in the armed services.

Proceeds of the sale will be credited to the accounts of the former Japanese owners. It was negotiated by Mr. McLarty, as custodian of enemy property, on the recommendation of the advisory committee on rural property set up under

His Majesty Is Reported At Gibraltar

Said to Have Made Trip by Airplane

MADRID, June 18 (AP). — Dispatches from La Linea said today the King had arrived at Gibraltar by plane after inspection of Allied forces in North Africa.

There was no confirmation of this report in official Allied quarters.

Dispatches said that the King was greeted upon his arrival by Lt.-Gen. F. N. M. MacFarlane, military governor of Gibraltar, and that they and other military and naval officers immediately inspected fortifications and garrison quarters deep in the Rock.

They added that the King's plane was minutely inspected and heavily guarded as it lay on the Gibraltar field and that the King was expected to proceed to England from Gibraltar.

To Tighten Up on Seattle Sales of Liquor to Minors

SEATTLE, June 18 (AP).—B. L. McCarty, State Liquor Board representative, warned today that a crack-down drive is being launched against sales of intoxicating beverages to minors.

McCarty, assistant chief of the State Liquor Control Inspection Division, said "This business of selling liquor to boys and girls under twenty-one has become a serious problem in Seattle and all over the State. It is running hand-in-hand with the fast-rising juvenile delinquency rate. We're going to curb it by getting tough."

New East Asia Military Command to Direct War Against Japanese Armies

Field Marshal Wavell Appointed Viceroy of India—Auchinleck Resumes Military Command

LONDON, June 19 (Saturday) (AP).—Great Britain appointed Field Marshal Sir Archibald P. Wavell, commander in chief in India, as Viceroy of India today, and announced the intention to create a separate East Asia Military Command to wage an offensive against Japan.

Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck was appointed to succeed Wavell as commander in India. The separate command decision is, presumably, one of the major products of the Washington strategy conferences between Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt.

Causes Furore

MAJOR JAMES H. CLARK

Speaker of the Ontario House who has raised a furore of criticism because of a recent statement in Detroit, Mich., in which he said that at least 40 per cent of Canadians favor political union with the United States. Lt.-Col George Drew asks that the Legislature dismiss Major Clark as Speaker of the House.

Who would head the proposed East Asia Command was not disclosed.

The announcement of Wavell's appointment to a five-year term succeeding Lord Linlithgow, and designation of Auchinleck to return to his 1940-41 command in India concluded:

"It is proposed to relieve the commander-in-chief in India of responsibility for the conduct of operations against Japan and to set up a separate East Asia Command for that purpose. Further announcement on this subject will be made soon."

SEEN AS SIGN OF FUTURE PLANS

This was taken by unofficial observers as a concrete expression of Britain's intention to prosecute the war against Japan with full vigor once Hitler is defeated.

The terms of the Wavell and Auchinleck appointments suggested new vigor would be injected immediately into the job of creating a strong forward base in the subcontinent of 400,000,000 for the reconquest of the Orient.

It appeared that Auchinleck would have mainly a defensive task, while Wavell, whose position roughly would be that of a prime minister in relation to strategy, would apply his military knowledge as well as his political tact to the complex task of the offensive. Sir Archibald now is in Britain and will return to India in the Autumn to assume the post of Viceroy.

Set Up Firm To Operate Quebec Yards

Elliott Little Named Director in Company

OTTAWA, June 18 (CP).—Munitions Minister Howe tonight announced the establishment of Quebec Shipyards Limited, a Crown company, to co-ordinate the shipbuilding activities of Morton Engineering & Dry Dock Co., Ltd., Quebec; George T. Davie & Sons Limited, Lauzon, Que., and the shipbuilding division of Anglo-Canadian Pulp & Paper Mills Limited.

The Morton and Davie companies are two of three Quebec district shipyards which have been tied up by a walkout of 7,000 employees. Third firm involved is the Davie Shipbuilding & Repairing Co. Workers affected by the strike, members of Canadian Congress labor unions, demand a closed shop agreement.

President of the new company is Wilfrid Gagnon, and the directors are Elliott Little, formerly director of National Selective Service and now general manager of Anglo-Canadian Pulp & Paper Mills Limited; Maurice Samson, C.A., of Charire, Samson, Beauvais, Gauthier & Co., and Edouard Simard, vice-president of Sorel Industries Limited.

Mr. Howe said a representative of organized labor also will be appointed to the directorate.

The new company will simplify and correlate production programmes of the three plants.

Suspends Elections

BUENOS AIRES, June 18 (AP).—Gen. Pedro Ramires's Government issued a decree tonight suspending presidential elections scheduled for September 5, and also banned the word "provisional" in referring to the present Government.

Davis Asserts Food Schedule Near Collapse

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP).—The United States War Food Administrator, Chester C. Davis, has told White House advisers, it was disclosed today, that the present Government food programme is not working satisfactorily and is in danger of collapse unless steps are taken soon to eliminate divided authority and to allow more flexibility in price control.

Davis, it was stated, has found that the entire food industry—including farmers, processors and distributors—and consumers are confused by the present situation. This confusion, in the Food Administrator's view, is potentially more dangerous than the threat of a reduced output of farm crops this year.

COLORFUL FIGURE DEAD

SALMON ARM, June 18 (CP).—A one-time colorful figure in the life of British Columbia, William Smith, eighty-eight, is dead here. Born in London, England, he ran away to sea at the age of eight. He sailed to China, then across the Pacific to Victoria, B.C. At one time he drove the stage between New Westminster and Gastown—now the city of Vancouver.

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1943, by Southam Co.)

LONDON, June 18.—King George has been visiting British and United States warships at a North African port. He inspected officers and men of the merchant service at a dockyard, and also French fighting forces, which gave him a particularly warm greeting.

Men from the largest British battleships and women of the Royal Naval Service in white uniforms were among those the King talked to in the dockyards.

Admiral of the Fleet Sir Andrew Cunningham, Commander-in-Chief in the Mediterranean, was present with King George, who met scores of officers and men and shook hands alike with censors and war correspondents. The French population was especially pleased by the royal inspection of French troops.

The French Committee for National Liberation, says the Algiers correspondent of The Times, has agreed upon creation of a consultative assembly. The committee also decided the means of working out new Government departments, and exchanged views on proposed reforms in the French Army.

The committee reached important conclusions as a unit, and no longer, as extremists on both sides have been saying, "as a debating chamber for two Fascist generals." If, says the correspondent of The Times, it can continue to work in such fashion as at present the rumors which poison the atmosphere may die out altogether.

Chances of agreement between the two generals are improving. The Allies have not intervened, but realization that the Allies' opinion about the negotiations was passing from bewilderment to something near derision and contempt, has helped to force some decisions and may bring about more.

At the worst, the committee fully realizes now that France has only

Three Mines Close in New Coal Trouble

U.S. Labor Board Disowns Pay Dispute

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP).—Work stoppages began developing at the Government-operated soft coal mines tonight almost immediately after the War Labor Board refused to order payments to the miners for underground travel, saying any legal claims for such pay are a matter for a law suit or an out-of-court settlement with the mine owners.

Three mines in Alabama, normally employing 2,200, had to close when evening shifts failed to report for work. Some 200 men on the night shift of a Johnstown, Pa., mine milled about for an hour, discussing the W.L.B. decision, then decided not to go to work.

In refusing to order payments for underground travel, the W.L.B. directed that the United Mine Workers sign a new contract embracing the old terms, concessions amounting to about twenty cents a day previously approved by the board—and a pledge of no strike for the duration.

LEWIS SILENT TILL MEETING

John L. Lewis, leader of the United Mine Workers, sent word to reporters that he would have no comment until after a meeting tomorrow of the union's policy committee. The 500,000 miners are working under a "truce" which expires at midnight Sunday.

In its order approved by an 8-to-4 vote with the Labor members dissenting, the W.L.B. said the question of whether the miners have a legal claim, as Lewis contends, for pay for underground travel is beyond its jurisdiction. It pointed out that its refusal to order such payments did not bar the miners from resort to legal processes.

In their dissenting opinion, the

British and U.S. Bombers Again Raid Italy and Sicily In Hard Pre-Invasion Blows

Blast Two Japanese Positions

Allied Dive-Bombers Attack Selaru Island

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, June 19 (Saturday), (CP).—Allied dive bombers, escorted by long-range fighters, raided two Japanese villages in Selaru Island in the Tanimbar group yesterday, the High Command announced today.

A single Japanese plane dropped bombs at Horn Island off Cape York, Australia, but the communique said they caused no damage.

In the raid on Selaru, which is 300 miles north of Darwin, the planes struck at the villages of Lingat and Werain. Off the shore, three luggers and two power barges were strafed. One of the barges was forced aground.

Also in the sector northwest of Australia, a two-engined Allied bomber on reconnaissance intercepted and shot down a Japanese float plane over the Arafura Sea.

At Laha, on Amboina, medium bombers attacked the airdrome dispersal and building areas. Resultant fires could be seen for forty miles.

SHOOT UP POSITION NEAR GREENS HILL

Twelve miles south of Salamaua, New Guinea, on the ground fighting front at Mubo, Allied attack planes poured fire into Japanese positions near Greens Hill, a frequent target.

Another often-bombed target, Cape Gloucester, New Britain, was visited at night by medium bombers which strafed three Japanese power barges, sinking one and badly damaging the others.

Allied planes have their greatest success at night against these barges because the Japanese seek to use them under the protection of darkness for the movement of supplies.

On Unea Island, off New Britain, a four-engined bomber on reconnaissance destroyed the jetty at the waterfront with a direct hit.

Workers Meet New Manager

Seek Solution to Quebec Differences

QUEBEC, June 18 (CP).—Workers' representatives, headed by Alexander McAuslane, vice-president of the Canadian Congress of Labor, today met Harold Clifford, whose appointment as general manager of Quebec Shipyards, Ltd., was announced in Ottawa tonight, to discuss possibilities of a settlement for the strike of 7,000 workers hampering work in three district yards.

No comment was made by Mr. Clifford after the meeting, but union officials said tonight the situation "is unchanged," adding that "possibility of reaching an agreement is hampered by the absence of representative of Davie Shipbuilding and Repairing Company," the third firm involved in the strike.

U.S. Coast Guard Cutter Blown Up

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP).—The United States coast guard cutter Escanaba was blown up by an explosion of undetermined cause and sank almost immediately while on convoy duty in the North Atlantic, the navy announced today.

All but two aboard were lost. She normally carried sixty officers and men.

The explosion tore the 718-ton vessel amidships. Officials here said that it could have been caused by a torpedo, a mine or some internal blowup.

R.A.F. Spitfires Escort American Planes to Raid Bases

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 18 (AP).—R.A.F. and American heavy bombers have smashed again at Italy and Italian Sicily in the campaign to destroy the enemy's potential sea power in the Mediterranean and to knock out the last of his air cover.

R.A.F. Wellington bombers struck at the home port of Naples in darkness Wednesday; American four-motored bombers followed this up by dropping 150 tons of explosives on the Sicilian airdromes of Comiso and Biscari yesterday. All Allied planes returned safely.

The United States bombers, estimated in Cairo dispatches at about fifty, were escorted by R.A.F. Spitfires based on Malta.

At Comiso, a hangar was destroyed and workshops, dispersal areas and the runway were covered with explosions. At Biscari, only a few miles away, many hits were scored. Several grounded enemy planes were believed destroyed at both fields. The Spitfires destroyed an Italian interceptor plane.

TELLS OF ATTACK ON NAPLES' DOCKS

Of the R.A.F. raid, the communique from Allied headquarters said only that the Naples' docks were attacked. Two enemy planes were destroyed last night in operations in this theatre.

The French High Command, in its first communique since the conquest of Tunisia, announced a French submarine had sunk a 5,000-ton Axis cargo ship in the Mediterranean.

It also disclosed the French had been supplied by Britain with Spitfire planes. This was made known in an official report that French fighter pilots flew 140 individual flights to protect debarking British troops during the occupation of Pantelleria.

The Italian communique reported Allied air attacks at several points in Sicily and on Calabria in Southern Italy proper.

Named Viceroy

SIR ARCHIBALD WAVELL
Who Was Today Appointed Viceroy of India

Intensified Warfare in Burma Soon

Washington Sees Sign In Wavell Appointment

WASHINGTON, June 18 (CP).—The appointment of Field Marshal Sir Archibald P. Wavell as Viceroy of India was regarded here tonight as a forecast of intensified warfare against the Japanese in the Burma area, probably an all-out offensive to reopen the Burma Road at the end of the monsoon season this Fall.

The immediate reaction here to the appointment, announced in London tonight, was favorable, because it placed in the Viceroy's Palace an acknowledged strategic expert and, perhaps, a man who might be able to pacify the conflicting and divided political elements of India.

Particular importance was attached here to one paragraph in the London announcement, the one explaining that, while Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck will succeed Sir Archibald as commander-in-chief in India, it is proposed to relieve him "of responsibility for the conduct of operations against Japan and set up a separate East Asia Command for that purpose."

This was taken to mean that Gen. Auchinleck, who was transferred from the Middle East when his Eighth Army was shattered by Field Marshal Erwin Rommel and driven back to within sixty miles of Alexandria in Egypt, but who, nevertheless was the man who rallied his troops at the El Alamein line to save Egypt, will be in charge of the military development of India, rather than given a field command.

Five Veterans' Organizations Form Council

OTTAWA, June 18 (CP).—Five ex-servicemen's organizations have united in a body to be known as the "National Council of Veteran Associations in Canada," Dr. P. B. Mellon, secretary of the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada, announced today.

The associations in the new federation are the Sir Arthur Pearson Association of War Blinded, the War Amputations of Canada, the Canadian Corps Association, the Canadian Pensioners' Association of the Great War and the Army and Navy Veterans.

"The National Council will speak for, and represent, the combined organizations, each of which retains its own identity and control of its particular field of work among veterans and their dependents," said Mr. Mellon's statement.

"The National Council replaces the Dominion Presidents' Conference of Veteran Associations which was formed in 1939, but is more comprehensive in scope, representing, as it does, branches of the constituent organizations in all parts of the Dominion."

French Group Expected to Compromise

Hold Second Plenary Session on Monday

ALGIERS, June 18 (AP).—Signs of a compromise partitioning of French military authority among followers of Gen. Charles de Gaulle and Gen. Henri Giraud developed today as the Committee of National Liberation arranged to hold a second plenary session on Monday.

In a speech for broadcast to France marking the third anniversary of the Fighting French organization, De Gaulle declared tonight "a vast movement of liberty" is sweeping toward his enslaved homeland.

The newest solution to the leaders' political problems was advanced by "moderates" of the thirteen-man Committee of National Liberation, which now has become the supreme governing authority in the overseas empire, and was reported acceptable in most respects to the co-presidents, De Gaulle and Giraud.

WOULD APPOINT SEPARATE COMMITTEE

As made known in political circles, the plan calls for the appointment of a separate Committee of National Defence which will include De Gaulle as defence commissioner, Giraud as commander-in-chief, Jean Monnet as commissioner of armament and supply, Andre Philip as commissioner of interior and resistance in France, and either General Alphonse Georges or Gen. Georges Catroux.

The Committee of National Defence, under the current scheme, would have a subcommittee composed of De Gaulle and the chiefs of staff of the army, navy and air force. This group would undertake the actual work of reorganizing and remodelling French armed forces, subject to approval by the Committee of National Defence.

British Railwaymen Get Boost in Wages

LONDON, June 19 (Saturday) (CP).—Four hundred thousand railway employees in Britain were given an increase of four shillings and sixpence a week (about 90 cents) in an agreement announced today.

The agreement was retroactive to April 26.

The union had asked an increase of ten shillings a week.

Members at Ottawa Plead For Expanded Scientific Research in Agriculture

Half-Million-Dollar Grant Asked—Gardiner Tells of Work Being Done by Department

OTTAWA, June 18 (CP).—Pleas for more scientific research for the benefit of Canadian agriculture came from all quarters of the House of Commons today. As Agriculture Minister Gardiner proceeded with his departmental estimates, Gordon Ross (Lib., Moose Jaw), a big farmer who pioneered in the growing of sunflowers as a commercial crop on the Prairies, renewed an earlier proposal for a $500,000 grant for agricultural research.

Today Mr. Ross went further than before and suggested laboratories be established in the four main agricultural regions—the Maritimes, the Central Provinces, the Prairies and British Columbia—and that the agricultural research programme be separate from the work carried on by the National Research Council.

Mr. Gardiner made no immediate comment on the Ross proposals, but gave an outline of research being carried on by his department into dehydration of foods, frozen foods canning, fruit juices, fibre production, vegetable oil production and rubber plant production.

TABLES DRAFT OF RELIEF ARRANGEMENT

Prime Minister Mackenzie King tabled in the House the draft agreement for establishment of a United Nations relief and rehabilitation arrangement. The agreement would be revised after the observations of different governments were received.

He said the problems of relief and rehabilitation in war-torn regions liberated from enemy control "are so vast as almost to stagger the imagination."

The agreement provided tentatively for a council on which all participating countries would be represented. The council would be supplemented by a central committee, a committee on supplies and regional committees.

A director-general with an international staff would be responsible for executive operation.

Mr. King said that on the third anniversary of the day "a small group of Frenchmen" announced their decision to continue the fight against aggression, it was an appropriate day on which to welcome the recent unification in North Africa of the forces—of General Charles De Gaulle and General Henri Giraud in the French Council of National Liberation.

Mr. King said he would make a statement later on the recognition Canada would accord to the combined French forces under Generals De Gaulle and Giraud.

RECORDS ARMY'S STAND ON GRECO

In answer to questions, W. C. Macdonald, Parliamentary assistant to Defence Minister Ralston, placed on the House record the army's refusal of permission to Pte. Johnny Greco, of Montreal, to fight Bob Montgomery in New York June 25.

Mr. Gardiner, in discussion of his department's estimates, said mechanization had made possible an increase in fibre flax acreage from 7,000 to 47,000. The British Government had asked for 75,000 acres, and if labor were available it would be possible to reach that goal. More research was needed before hemp production could be undertaken on a commercial scale.

In connection with oil plants the department was seeking a greater use of wilt-resistant flax varieties. The goal of 90,000 acres of soya beans could not be reached this year, but about 55,000 would be planted. All available sunflower seed had been planted. Rape seed was being grown and other oil plants were in the experimental stage.

New hyrid varieties of corn are being studied with a view to their use for corn oil and corn starch.

Work done over a period of years on rubber-producing plants had made it possible to proceed with growing milkweed and dandelions for that purpose this year.

Win Governor General's Literary Awards

Winners of the Governor-General's literary awards for the best works of creative non-fiction, academic non-fiction, fiction and poetry published by Canadian writers during 1942, as announced by the Canadian Authors' Association. Hutchison, Sallans, Birney and McInnis Win Awards for Writing

(By The Canadian Press)

G. Herbert Sallans, Prairie-reared Canadian newspaperman, now of Montreal, with his book "Little Man," is the winner of the Governor-General's Literary Award for fiction written in 1942, the Canadian Authors' Association announced today.

The award in the poetry division goes to Earle Birney, assistant professor of English, University of Toronto, for his "David and Other Poems."

Bruce Hutchison, of Saanich, B.C., is named for the award in creative non-fiction with his work "The Unknown Country."

In academic non-fiction, Edgar McInnis, of the staff in history, University of Toronto, wins the award with "The Unguarded Frontier."

In announcing the winners, Charles Clay, acting secretary of the C.A.A., points out there were originally three divisions in the awards—fiction, poetry and non-fiction. This year the non-fiction division was broken down into creative non-fiction and academic non-fiction.

The awards were begun when the late Lord Tweedsmuir was Governor-General and the Earl of Athlone has continued the bronze medals since he took office. Professor Watson Kirkconnell, of Hamilton, is the current national president of the C.A.A.

NEWSPAPER CAREERS

Mr. Sallans, winner of the fiction award, had his first story published in a Canadian magazine when he was thirteen. A graduate of the University of Manitoba, he served three years with the Canadian Artillery in the first Great War and when peace came he went into newspaper work. He was on the staff at various times of The Saskatoon Phoenix, Hamilton Spectator, Windsor Star and Vancouver Sun, then joined The British United Press. In October, 1942, he was appointed director of information at Ottawa for the army. He returned to The British United Press as general news manager this month.

Bruce Hutchison, awarded the medal for creative non-fiction, is on the staff of The Vancouver Sun and The Victoria Times, and has written widely for magazines and other periodicals. In 1925 he went to Ottawa as a political writer. He has toured Canada, the United States and Europe on various assignments. In writing "The Unknown Country," Mr. Hutchison says he tried to portray Canada to readers in both the United States and the Dominion itself for, he declared, "no one knows less about Canada than a Canadian, and no nation in the world is so intimately linked with the United States." He was born in Prescott, Ont.

Earle Birney, who is given the poetry award, is a native of Calgary and a graduate of the Universities of British Columbia and Toronto. For several years assistant professor of English at the Toronto institution, he is at present on active service with the Canadian Army in England.

Native of Prince Edward Island, Edward McInnis, who received the award for academic non-fiction, is a graduate of the University of Toronto and a Rhodes scholar. He served overseas with the Canadian Garrison Artillery in the first Great War. Since then he has taught history in universities of both Canada and the United States.

Hart to Meet B.C. Electric Executives

Will Negotiate for Utilities Purchase

Victoria, Vancouver and adjacent municipalities having indicated to the Provincial Government their interest in the proposed purchase of assets and services of the B.C. Electric Railway Company in British Columbia, Premier John Hart announced yesterday a conference with officials of the utilities corporation, at which conference, probably next week, a committee may be set up to continue negotiations and establish a fair price.

The company's holdings are variously estimated to be worth anywhere from $75,000,000 to $100,000,000.

Officially, at least, the Government has had no expression of opinion from company spokesmen because the Province had first to obtain the views of interested municipalities before any definite suggestions to the company could be made.

"Should an agreement be reached eventually," said Mr. Hart, "the Province will assume responsibility for power development and supply to arranged centres, but distribution and operation within each municipality will be a matter for the cities to deal with."

Since the Province will engage in power development, the Premier stated, "the Government to that extent will participate in the purchase."

Although transportation and local distribution will be up to the municipalities, every consideration will be shown such proposals as they may offer, and, as Mr. Hart explained last February, when the Legislature was in session, "every assistance will be given in connection with the financing of such a scheme."

Mr. Hart is of the opinion that management of the services should be in the hands of inter-municipal boards or commissions, established in Vancouver and Victoria, instead of each municipality affected.

Victoria has been advised that Esquimalt and Oak Bay municipalities are interested and wish to continue negotiations, and Saanich, Mr. Hart said, he had been given to understand, is agreeable to a conference.

Following next week's meeting between Mr. Hart and officials of the company, a committee will be formed and authorized to explore the possibilities and to carry on such further negotiations as may lead to an ultimate agreement. Although all utilities, transportation, gas, light and power, are involved, and numerous interests affected, it was believed possible to complete within a year a deal which would be equitable and satisfactory to all concerned.

Axis Respecting Geneva Agreement On War Prisoners

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP).—The Axis powers generally are respecting provisions of the Geneva convention governing the treatment of United States prisoners of war and recognition of hospital ships, War Department officials say, it was disclosed in printed hearings of the United States Army Supply Bill sent to the House of Representatives today.

Witnesses told the Appropriations Committee they had heard that prisoner treatment was "very good." However, they added, the execution of American aviators who bombed Tokio denitely was a violation of the convention agreement.

Believes Axis Already Has Lost the War

SEATTLE, June 18 (AP).—Rear Admiral G. W. Stoeve, of the Royal Netherlands Navy, expressed the belief today that Germany and Italy "have already lost the war because they have been forced to change from the offensive to the defensive. The issue will be decided in 1944."

"You can say that a war is won when you are completely sure that you are not going to lose it or that it will not end in a stalemate," he told a Post-Intelligence reporter.

"It is only a matter of how long Germany and Italy can now endure."

Admiral Stoeve, who was stationed in Java prior to the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor and now is stationed in Washington, D.C., said the Japanese might try an invasion in force this Summer on the American coast.

Likes Canada

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., June 18 (CP).—Col. Robert R. McCormick, publisher and editor of The Chicago Tribune, at a luncheon today in connection with official inspection of the new sulphite-alcohol plant of the Ontario Paper Company at Thorold declared: "My affection for Canada is so great that nothing anybody can do or say can change it."

Col. McCormick repeated an offer to make available to Canadian and United States pulp mills advancements in technique demonstrated in the Thorold plant, a subsidiary of the Ontario Paper Company, owned by The Tribune. This plant now is producing alcohol for rubber manufacture, derived from previously-wasted by-products of the manufacture of sulphite pulp. High officials of the Canadian and United States administrations concerned with synthetic rubber production had inspected the Thorold plant today.

William Jeffers, United States rubber director, repeated a statement made earlier today on a broadcast from Detroit, that synthetic rubber is here to stay and will compete with crude rubber in the post-war years.

Development Surveys Are Announced

Engineers Assigned To Field Stations

Working under a co-ordinated Dominion-Provincial plan, Government engineers and geologists have started surveys of deposits of war minerals, petroleum and coal within the Province of British Columbia, it was announced yesterday by Hon. E. C. Carson, Minister of Mines.

One Dominion party will work along the Alaska Highway in a belt which lies partly in British Columbia and partly in the Yukon, and nine Dominion parties will work entirely in this province. Three of these nine will cover Northeastern British Columbia in search and examination of oil structures. Two parties go to Hudson Hope, Hasler Creek and the Pine River coal belts in connection with the finding of coal for developments along the Alaska Highway, and a third will investigate the coal and coal-bearing rocks of the Comox-Nanaimo area on Vancouver Island.

One party will examine the northern end of the mercury belt in the Takla area, another will inquire into recent discoveries of tungsten in the southern part of the province and continue geological mapping in the Ashcroft area, and still another party will make a detailed investigation of zinc and other deposits in part of the Ainsworth area.

A provincial party under J. S. Stevenson will examine tungsten and molybdenum deposits on Vancouver Island and lower coast islands and deposits of other metals and of mercury in the Central Interior.

M. S. Hedley will lead a party in examination of deposits of tungsten, fluorite, or other strategic minerals in the Boundary and West Kootenay districts, including the Slocan-Ainsworth area, in connection with recent lead-zinc mining operations and developments.

K. de P. Watson and W. H. Mathews have gone to Dease Lake to make a reconnaissance geological survey of the area lying between Dease Lake and Teslin Lake and extending northerly to the Alaska Highway. Little is known of the geology of this area, but it is believed probable that parts of it are favorable for the occurrence of metallic minerals.

S. S. Holland has gone to Fort St. John to survey an area west of the Alaska Highway, drained by the Prophet and Muskwa Rivers. This is in the foothills east of the Rocky Mountains and will not be covered by the geological survey party under C. O. Hage, who is working farther south, nor by M. Y. Williams, who is working north of Holland's area.

Both the Dominion and Provincial organizations are co-operating fully to achieve common purposes and to avoid overlapping effort, it was stated. The findings of all groups and parties will be equally available and upon conclusion of the surveys the two governments will have before them a fund of authentic information on which to proceed with such developments as may seem advisable.

Favored Net Players Win

Seeded Stars in Easy Victories

DETROIT, June 18 (AP).—Five showdown singles matches and surprise intervention by the United States Lawn Tennis Association today stripped the thirty-third national clay courts of all but seeded players—Pauline Betz, of Los Angeles and Nancy Corbett, of Chicago in the women's division and four men.

Top-ranking Miss Betz, who won the title in 1941, when it was last contested, breezed through a 6-1, 6-0 decision today over Pearl Peterson of Detroit. Tomorrow, Miss Betz meets second-seeded Miss Corbett for the title.

Top-seeded Billy Talbert, of Cincinnati, defending champion Seymour Greenberg and third-seeded Jimmy Evert, of Chicago, gained quarter-final victories to continue their title fights tomorrow. Meantime, Earl Cochell, of Los Angeles, got in without playing through the disqualification of eighteen-year-old Charles Hubbard, of Long Beach, Calif.

On instructions from Charles S. Garland, of Baltimore, chairman of the U.S.T.L.A. amateur rule committee, Hubbard was barred on the grounds that he still was under suspension for playing illegally in a tournament in April, 1942, at Santa Monica, Calif.

Canadian D.F.C. Winner In Plenty of Action Now

Sqdn. Ldr. Lloyd V. Chadburn's Spitfires Cause Enemy's Coastal Shipping Many Headaches

WITH THE R.C.A.F., SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, June 18 (CP).—Sqdn. Ldr. Lloyd V. Chadburn's wish is being fulfilled. When he returned to England a couple of months ago after a short leave in Canada, the blond D.F.C. from Aurora, Ont., complained he wasn't seeing enough action.

Now the R.C.A.F. Spitfire squadron he leads is becoming a headache to enemy shipping along the coast of occupied Europe and within easy range of Nazi fighter stations.

On two consecutive operations, the Canadians damaged three E-boats, an armed trawler and a merchantman, and probably more than one of them were sunk.

ATTACKED OFF NETHERLANDS COAST

The E-boats were attacked off the Netherlands coast and threw up a heavy barrage of flak while the Spits still were 2,000 yards off.

W.O. Wally Shepherd, of Stonewall, Man., had a close call. He attacked the second boat and a piece of exploding shell struck the metal sides of his suspenders, saving him from what probably would have been a nasty chest wound. His propeller was hit and his windscreen was shattered, splinters cutting his cheek. He went in just the same, opening fire at 700 yards and raking the E-boat's super-structure with cannon and machine-gun fire.

The third E-boat was attacked by Flt. Sgt. H. P. Fuller, of Hortonville, N.B., and W.O. Bob Prebble, of Steveston, B.C., who saw cannon and machine-gun fire from both Spits strike the water, then the side of the boat and then its superstructure.

The armed trawler and merchantman were attacked the next day as they sought to sneak up the Netherlands coast. Chadburn led the attack on the trawler and saw black smoke pour out of it after he had fired continuously from 400 yards to thirty yards range.

Other Canadians in the attack were Sgt. Bob Crewe, of Wheatley, Ont.; Sgt. Don Lauder, of Port Colborne, Ont., and F.O. Bert Dodds, of Whitemouth, Man.

Saw No Enemy Planes in the Alaskan Area

LONDON, Ont., June 18 (CP).—Engine-Room Artificer John A. Noble, R.C.N.V.R., returned home recently from a period of duty in Alaskan waters, but in the time he was there the only planes he spotted were R.C.A.F. and United States craft, he said.

Noble, who is spending a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Noble, of London, was on convoy duty guarding United States troops bound for the Attu attack. He encountered no "real action" and has never seen a Japanese nor a Japanese plane.

He said there was no sign of invasion jitters among coast-living British Columbians who seemed confident there were enough troops in the area to defend them.

New Record Output Of Planes in U.S.

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP).—United States aircraft production in May "reached the unprecedented figure of nearly 7,200 planes of all types," the War Production Board announced today.

"Output will be substantially larger in June, with the production curve continuing its steady rise thereafter until it meets the maximum of available supplies of the aluminum, copper and alloy steel required to turn out finished planes," W.P.B. said.

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., June 18 (CP).—Officials of Trans-Canada Air Lines from all parts of Western Canada went into conference today for a general discussion of operations and traffic problems of the national air line. New Westminster Plant Keeps Them Flying

THE Canadian Pacific Air Lines repair plant at New Westminster, where more than 1,000 skilled workers give new life to worn or damaged R.C.A.F. planes, will be officially opened on Sunday in the presence of Government and civic officials, R.C.A.F. representatives and plant employees and members of their families. Following a brief programme with the Hon. E. W. Hamber as chief speaker, guests will be shown through the plant where important war work is in progress. Invitation cards are necessary to gain admittance.

This plant is the largest of the five aircraft repair and engine overhaul plants operated by Canadian Pacific Air Lines. It has more than 1,000 employees and is steadily expanding.

Canadian Pacific Air Lines also operates on a non-profit basis six air observer schools and one elementary flying training school and is the largest single civilian organization connected with the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan.

C.P.A.L.'s fleet of modern planes last year flew approximately six million scheduled air miles and carried the record total of almost ten million pounds of air cargo. Ninety per cent of this was estimated to have been closely connected with the war effort.

Photographs above show the new plant, employees repairing the wing of a Stranraer and (inset) G. A. Thompson, plant manager.

Knox Expects More Sinkings By Submarines

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP).—An increase in the submarine sinkings of Allied ships was predicted today by Navy Secretary Frank Knox, who said the present lull in the Atlantic must indicate some change in the plans of the Germans.

Knox told a press conference that at present the progress of Allied anti-submarine operations is "very satisfactory, but realistically we know they're going to do something." He added:

"We'll get an increase in sinkings. The war on the submarines isn't over by any means. It may revive at any time at any place in the Atlantic.

"They have a lot of submarines. We will continue to struggle against them as long as the war lasts."

PRINCE RUPERT, June 18 (CP).—With the season for exclusive halibut fishing in Area No. 2 closing at midnight June 20 some of the Prince Rupert halibut fleet continued operations in the area under permit which allows them to take one pound of halibut with every seven pounds of saleable fish of other species not including salmon and tuna. Others of the halibut fleet turned to salmon packing and some of the larger Prince Rupert vessels continued halibut fishing in the more remote Area No. 3 which has not yet been closed to fishing.

Up to and including June 18, halibut landings at the port of Prince Rupert for the 1943 season totaled 6,302,800 pounds, compared with 6,339,919 pounds for the corresponding date last year. The Canadian landings totaled 3,338,600 pounds, against 2,466,119 pounds a year ago while American landings aggregated 2,964,200 pounds compared with 3,873,800 pounds last year. During the week of June 12-18 inclusive landings at Prince Rupert amounted to 849,700 pounds of which 231,700 pounds was from American vessels and 418,000 pounds from Canadian.

VANCOUVER, June 18 (CP).—A waterspout which Bill Gregorak, head lifeguard at Locarno Beach, said "must have been at least 1,000 feet tall," whipped up the centre of English Bay today. Several residents of the Point Grey area reported the phenomenon, which lasted about ten minutes.

Radar Helped Troops Land In Aleutians

Secret Weapon Used In Retaking Attu

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP).—Radar, the most publicized secret weapon of the war, helped American troops to land on Attu in the Aleutians, Congress was told today.

Maj. Gen. Dawson Olmstead, of the Signal Corps, told the House of Representatives Appropriations Committee:

"In the battle of Attu in Alaska, when our forces arrived and wanted to get men ashore in small boats, the weather made visibility so bad that the water could not be seen from the deck of a ship. The ships were berthed and the men landed by the use of radar."

Radar is a radio device used for detection of ships, planes or other objects obscured from vision. It played a stellar part in the battle of Britain by detecting the approach of German planes.

It was by radar, Olmstead said, that Japanese planes approaching Pearl Harbor, December 7, 1941, were detected while 132 miles off shore. However, the detection was not officially reported at the time.

The officer predicted that "when the war is over radar is going to save many lives," adding: "A great and new field is opening up, and I do not think that even the scientists realize where it will lead."

No Indication of Work to Start On New Airport

OTTAWA, June 17 (CP).—Construction of an airport near Namao, seven miles north of Edmonton, had been considered from time to time during the past two years, and a survey was carried out some time ago so work could be started quickly if a go-ahead signal is received, it was learned here today.

It was said in official circles here, however, that there is no indication a start on the building job is likely in the immediate future, although developments in the Northwest often came with little warning.

The Edmonton Journal said yesterday it had learned that the go-ahead signal was expected shortly for construction of a $10,000,000 airport near Namao to fill the wartime needs of the United States Government.

DANGEROUSLY INJURED

TORONTO, June 18 (CP).—L.A.C. J. A. Holgate, of Edmonton, was reported by R.C.A.F. officials yesterday to have been dangerously injured in the mid-air crash of two training planes near Hagersville, Ont., which claimed the lives of six airmen. Another airman dangerously injured and the six killed were all from Eastern Canada.

KITTEN IN ICED CAR

PHILADELPHIA, June 18 (AP).—A refrigerator car, sealed for thirteen days with the temperature at thirty-two degrees, arrived from California containing: Fifty thousands pounds of potatoes, 12,000 pounds of ice and one pound of cat. The S.P.C.A. said the kitten thawed promptly when given a saucer of milk.

The red fox is also colored silver, black and yellow.

ATLANTIC FLIGHTS

The announcement that the Department of Transport will arrange in July for the inauguration of a special trans-Atlantic airmail and passenger service in connection with the requirements of Canada's armed forces overseas was made this week at Ottawa. Mr. Howe, in making the statement, said the new service would be temporary and non-commercial; and its chief purpose the expediting of mail and other services in connection with some 250,000 Canadians who are now overseas.

The inference to be drawn from the announcement was that here is the first civilian-operated trans-oceanic service to be outlined by Canada, in the wake of many hundreds of successful Atlantic flights on ferry and other war purposes. Under careful management it should succeed; and fast passage gained in this way should be of some assistance in speeding up mails and supplies to Canadians serving overseas. The Pan-American Air Lines, and before that the Imperial Airways, Ltd., were pioneers in the same field. There is no reason why Canada should not set out to gain her own experience in oceanic flying, and add that knowledge to the general pool. It will all be needed.

The concurrent announcement that Canada is building cargo planes, and experimenting with new types in these, is of equal interest, for there is little doubt that cargo-carrying planes are only at the beginning of their life in modern aviation. Research in this is of the utmost importance. The first nation, for instance, to develop an inboard, central engine room in a plane, with transmitted power for its air screws, would be conferring a benefit on the whole world. Canada has as great an opportunity in this field of research as any of the nations planning now for what peace will surely bring: that is, tremendous development in the air. Indeed, there are few nations which on a per capita basis have more men trained in the air. This precious experience must be conserved by every reasonable means available, and not dissipated as it was at the close of the last conflict.

With such plans, however, it is the more necessary that Canada put her permanent air policy into better trim than it is in at the moment.

IMMORAL CENSORSHIP

One of Canada's chief censors was decorated in the King's Birthday honors, presumably for services rendered to the Government at Ottawa. One of those services has now come to light. The War Services Department has admitted that private letters critical of governmental policy are copied by officials of the censorship branch and forwarded to the departments affected. In extenuation of this violation of His Majesty's mails it is explained that the practice is confined to letters, which, in the opinion of the censorship responsible, "are detrimental or significant to the war effort." The Government, through its censorship, puts its own interpretation on "detriment" and "significance."

In what is being done there is what savors of the methods of the German Gestapo. Opinions respecting internal affairs are being censored, opinions that by no stretch of the imagination could be of any value to the enemy. This practice is a denial of the freedom of expression of opinion, just as it is denied in Axis countries. It is an unwarranted and wholly indefensible violation of the right of the subject in a democratic country. It is, in fact, a despicable way of operating a censorship, yet it is not only ordered by the Government but that same Government rewards the tool who carries out its behests by a recommendation for recognition on the honors list by His Majesty. Of the practice, The Toronto Globe and Mail says:

"The proper function of the censorship is to prevent the publication of or secret transmission of information which might be of value to the enemy if it came into his hands, and the national interest demands that it should be exercised with assiduous vigilance. The censors are fully justified in interfering with correspondence of this type and making representations to authorities who can take the necessary steps to deal with its authors, but when censors copy private letters containing criticisms of the Government whose disclosures would not be of the smallest value to the enemy, they are trespassing in most reprehensible fashion beyond their proper functions."

TOO OLD AT 57?

As is the case with so many orders issued from Ottawa there are "exceptions to prove the rule." The Minister of National Defence has declared that a maximum age limit of 57 is fixed for officers employed in operational units of the Canadian Army overseas. If this order is applied to Lieut.-General A. G. L. McNaughton, who is in command of the Canadian Corps in Great Britain, he will have to retire in January next. That would mean that he would be out of the Army perhaps when the war is at its fiercest and when the corps which he has built up with such efficiency is engaged. Any decision to this effect would hardly meet with the approval of the Canadian people.

With the application of the new order to officers in non-operational units or establishments overseas (an age limit of 58) and for non-operational units or establishments in Canada (an age limit of 60) there can be no dispute. In the case of operational units or establishments in Canada (an age limit of 59) there are to be exceptions. The age may be extended to 60, or even beyond, if no other suitable officer is available, or under what are denoted as "most exceptional circumstances." So far no "exceptions" are provided for in the case of officers serving in operational units overseas, yet that is where they have attained the greatest experience and are, in every likelihood, in better physical condition that those officers who are only concerned in home defence and whose duties are in no sense as vigorous as those of officers serving outside the country.

Perhaps, under the conditions of life as it is lived today and war as it is fought, the stress and strain on mental and physical powers are greater than they used to be. That may be doubted, but it is the conception that governs the age limits now prescribed by Ottawa. History records instances that do not bear out the belief held by Canada's Minister of National Defence. Marshal Ferdinand Foch was 67 years of age when, as Commander-in-Chief of the Allied [illegible] victory in 1918. Paul von Hindenburg, engaged in the same war, was 69 when he was appointed Chief of the German General Staff, with Ludendorff as his executive officer, and when he controlled all the operations of the German Armies East and West. Earl Haig of Bemersyde was in command of the British Army in [illegible]ance in 1918 at the age of 57. Marshal Henri Petain was 62 when he organized the historic defence of Verdun, and later he commanded the French Armies of the North and Northeast in the Great War. General Sir Edmund Allenby was 57 when his army conquered Palestine. Looking farther back, Earl Roberts was 66 when he was in command of the British Army which ended the South African War in 1900, and, on his return to England, he was Commander-in-Chief until that post was abolished in 1904. Farther back still there was the case of John Churchill, Duke of Marlborough, who was 59 years old when he won the Battle of Malplaquet and only a year younger at Oudenarde.

Despite new weapons, war does not vary much in the strain that it imposes on leadership. In that role it is experience more than anything else that counts, and that is why the ruling now emanating from Ottawa should be more elastic than it appears on the surface.

PRODUCTION OF RUBBER

The rubber outlook, despite all the plans under way for synthetic production, is not exactly promising. The best way of all to bring about its solution is the reconquest of Malaya, but that seems a plan, so far, very much in the indefinite future. At present, in the United States, according to The New York Times (who quotes the rubber controller) "of forty-eight synthetic rubber plants (comprising eighty-four separate units) only twenty-seven are ready for operation, and these have a capacity of only 252,000 long tons—30 per cent of the amount called for by a new programme based on a production of 850,000 tons instead of the 1,074,000 recommended as the total for this country (the United States) and Canada by the Baruch Committee."

It will be next year before all the synthetic plants will be in production. Then, it is hoped, that 750,000 tons of crude rubber will be available annually. The Times believes, despite the amount called for in the Baruch report, that production will then meet requirements, because "at the time the committee reported the technological picture was not what it is today, and it was possible to present only the roughest kind of estimate of our needs." Thus it appears that The Times relies now, in part, on the rationing system that has gone into effect, which means that those now restricted in the use of rubber, for tires and other purposes, will not benefit by synthetic production. In the end, however, the United States is planning to be "the world's leading producer of rubber" of the synthetic variety. This article can never wholly replace the natural product, and that means replace it with equal value. In conjunction with production from synthetic plants there should be a speeding up of the campaign for the reconquest of Malaya from where so much of the world's natural supply of rubber comes.

TALLY OF PRISONERS-OF-WAR

It was not until the end of the Tunisian campaign that Great Britain achieved the goal of having more German prisoners than the Germans have British. In all, the enemy, in the North African fighting lost close to 700,000 men. Germany alone lost upwards of 250,000 in prisoners, killed, wounded and permanently sick, without taking into account those brought to their death while crossing the Mediterranean. Italy's losses in North Africa are described as "crippling," and those of Germany as "damaging."

In October last, when Germany ordered prisoners taken at Dieppe to be shackled, the Nazis held approximately 90,000 of the Empire's fighting personnel. At that time there were only 23,000 Germans in British hands. Now the situation has been considerably reversed. Italy has 70,000 British prisoners of war but the British hold 300,000 Italians, without counting the native troops who fought with that Axis partner in North Africa. In all the British have taken nearly 500,000 prisoners of war whereas both Germany and Italy have only 160,000 British prisoners. The numbers on the side of the British are increasing all the time with the surrender of Italian islands in the Mediterranean.

What with pre-school schools and post-graduate college courses, schooling bids fair to take up most of an individual's life. Then, of course, comes education itself, with its adult educational, night school, trade and technical courses. In the end, the farm boy comes to the city, and takes most of the plums.

This is the centenary year of the conquest of Scinde. It recalls the most laconic message of military success yet penned, for Sir Charles Napier recorded it with the word "peccavi."

FROM: IS LIFE WORTH LIVING?

Is life worth living? Yes, so long
As Spring revives the year
And hails us with the cuckoo's song,
To show that she is here;
So long as May of April takes
In smiles and tears farewell,
And wind-flowers dapple all the brakes
And primroses the dell;
While children in the woodlands yet
Adorn their little laps
With ladysmock and violet;
And daisy-chain their caps;
While over orchard daffodils
Cloud-shadows float and fleet,
And ousel pipes and laverock trills,
And young lambs buck and bleat;
So long as that which bursts the bud
And swells and tunes the rill
Makes Springtime in the maiden's blood,
Life is worth living still.

—Alfred Austin.

Note and Comment

By SANDHAM GRAVES

Enter a street car these days, and you will be in the middle of a richly human drama. It is an unlimited procession of first acts. A conductor who got up before dawn—or who won't go to bed until tomorrow—is tucking in the crowd expeditiously. He depends largely on their honesty, because there is a heavy congestion around the fare box at [illegible] in this he is betrayed. Most Canadians are honest, by choice. You might look for bad temper and cross-grained people in such a jam, but more often than not you will look in vain. The public is going home to its luncheon or to its supper, and is quite prepared to have others claim a similar privilege.

* * *

Looking at the carload, with prewar eyes, you would inevitably notice the absence of men in general, and of young men in particular—unless they are in uniform, or incapacitated. You would notice women, who dislike parcels, carrying armloads of these in the self-service mode of the day. Were you observing, you would see that fashions had been laid aside in favor of something that can be described as comfort or utility; and that make-up had largely been abandoned. Ten to one, there will be a young girl sitting on the back stoop in overalls, with a lunchbox on her knees and a rabbit's-foot bandanna tied in cunning fashion around her hair. Ten to one—nay, twenty to one—there will be a smudge on the end of her nose. She does not mind. Grime is a badge of honor today.

* * *

Greater miracles than that are to be observed in the same vehicle. In the centre of the car, if you will look, Mr. Fussbudget is seated beside Mrs. Tattletongue in the most friendly companionship. A year or two ago, he thought of her as "that woman!" At that time, too, she had often referred publicly to him as "the old goat!" But not today. Young Timothy Fussbudget is in the navy; and Frances Sphinx, nee Tattletongue, is a section officer, married to a pilot in the air force. True, Mrs. Tattletongue still talks a mile a minute, but her remarks are no longer barbed. True, Mr. Fussbudget picks up only every third word; but now he is nodding and smiling and seems to like it. He presses the buzzer for her and she beams on him from over an armful of parcels—the last of which he has just pressed more securely into its place. She is about to tackle the scrum.

* * *

Down in the body of the street car, where in the aisle the crowd is swaying like a bed of geraniums in a brisk wind, a soldier and a sailor look like being amalgamated for life by sheer physical pressure from the flanks. They fend themselves off and get talking. One is from the East and the other from the West, in Canada. But they share the same approximate age—about twenty-two, one might judge. They arrange to go fishing on their next leave together. Nor does the variety of first acts end there. There are many, many more. The car passes two-thirds of its intermediate destinations and the aisles and stoops are cleared. Husbands rejoin their wives at the seats and reassume diversified bundles of parcels. The motorman, who has driven a mile and a quarter with a very sharp elbow in the small of his back, breathes more freely. In two hours and eight minutes, precisely, he will be relieved, and George can have a go at it. George will take the theatre rush without turning a hair. Complications, of course, come in the second acts, and heaven itself could scarcely predict the last acts with certainty—but nowhere else will you find so much genuine drama for six cents, standing room only.

Labor members disagreed with the majority ruling that the matter of portal-to-portal pay was outside the board's jurisdiction. They noted that the majority said the board would consider any out-of-court settlement and commented "If it can approve the settlement without conflict with the Wage-Hour Act, it certainly has the power to determine in the first instance whether increases are due."

The entire board held a press conference to announce the decision. At that time, Van Bittner, C.I.O. member, said that while the Labor members disagreed with the ruling, it was now a "Government decision" which all should support.

Dealing editorially with Japan's changed propaganda in conquered countries, The Times says Tokio is now, like Germany, trying to win over oppressed populations with vague promises, like those of independence for the Philippines and Burma.

The Japanese are less depressed than the Germans and far less exhausted than the Italians. But they feel less healthily confident about final victory than they did last year. Foiled in their attacks on Australia and on Hawaii, they are now endeavoring to make their conquests secure and draw maximum profit from Malaya, Indo-China, Dutch East Indies.

Their naval losses have been heavy, and they have lost valuable outposts. Their offensive strength in China is weakened, and increases in British and American war production must warn them that an Allied offensive can not be far off.

NOT ALL SUITABLE FOR SETTLEMENT

The director of the Land Act, Gordon Murchison, said in a statement that not all the parcels of land are "of themselves suitable for veteran settlement."

"In some cases subdivision may be undertaken. In others it may be advisable to consolidate two or more parcels into one unit. In many cases it will be necessary to undertake extensive alterations to existing buildings or the erection of new homes of modest size but of enduring construction. The scarcity of building materials and expert labor at the present time are factors which make it necessary to postpone such a building programme until conditions are more favorable."

Meanwhile, he said, local administration of these lands will come under I. A. Barnet, provincial superintendent, Veterans' Land Act and Soldier Settlement, at Vancouver. Annual taxes levied by the local authorities will be paid in accordance with the provisions of the Veterans' Land Act.

All Together for Last Drive—Canada is about to gather her available resources for the last great drive that shall send the Hun reeling from the conflict into which he plunged the civilized world four years ago. She proposes to lay the foundation for this ultimate effort by taking an inventory of the manpower of the nation, and has set aside Saturday, June 22, as the day upon which all persons of sixteen years of age and over must register and make declaration as to the useful kinds of work in connection with which their services might be utilized.

From the B.B.C. news: "Eighty-five per cent of the students in Holland have refused to sign a declaration of loyalty to Nazi authorities. Some 4,000 Dutch medical men lately defied an attempt to force them into membership of the Nazi physicians' guild. On the first refusal, the Nazis deducted the subscription from their health insurance payments. In retaliation the doctors refused to carry on health insurance work. They were then threatened with heavy fines and other penalties. Undeterred, they ceased to practice. In face of the almost complete cessation of medical treatment throughout the Netherlands, Nazi authorities were forced to allow the doctors freedom of action, outside the Quisling guild. Like measures have been adopted against the oppressor in Belgium. A new group calling itself the 'Peasant Opposition to the Occupier' has been formed. Its members pledge themselves to keep as much food as possible from the Nazi armies, to sell their produce at a moderate price to fellow nationals, to resist deportation, and not to respond when summoned to labor offices." In the Solomon Islands, Japanese dropped hundreds of surrender tickets worded, "Ticket to armistice. Use this ticket. Save your life. You will be kindly treated. Follow these instructions. Any number of you may surrender with this ticket. Japanese Army headquarters. Sing your way to peace. Pray for peace."

might be considered to direct all Allied forces operating from India against Japan.

The terms of United States collaboration in the East Asia Command are not known, but it would be a joint operation similar to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's highly successful campaign. There is no suggestion Gen. Douglas MacArthur's command in the South Pacific would be subordinated to the East Asia effort.

The creation of a command under an air officer would seem to imply a more direct assault on Japan, rather than a slow island-by-island advance.

The fact Wavell will not assume his new duties until the Fall however, suggested no immediate major advance in the Far East.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

To find the depth of water on the sill at the Esquimalt Drydock at any time, add 25 feet to the height of such water as above given.

IMPRISONED ANIMALS

Sir,—Many people must agree with Mr. Pease in all he says. Perhaps if we are to have a more decent world after the war, zoos will be regarded as abhorrent as the madhouses of a century ago, whose unfortunate inmates were also made shows for the public. Many have read John Galsworthy's books; here is one part of some verses he wrote about man as a being powerless to see his creatures as they are:

He'll prate of "mercy to the weak
And strive to lengthen human breath,
But starve the little gaping beak
And hunt the timid hare to death
Though with a spirit wild as wind,
The world at liberty he'd see,
He cannot any reason find
To set the tameless tiger free.
He'd soar the Heavens in his flight
To measure Nature's majesty,
Yet take his children to delight
In captive eagles' tragedy.
This man in knowledge absolute
Who right, and love, and honor woos,
Yet keeps the pitiful poor brute
To mope and languish in his zoos.
You creatures wild, of field and air,
Keep far from men, where'er they go.
God set no speculation there—
Alack!—we know not what we do!

And these verses:

See there a golden eagle broods
With glazed unseeing eyes
Thot never more will sweep the snows
Where blue Sierras rise;
And there, sick for his native hills
A sullen panther lies.
What dreams of silent polar nights
Disturb the white bear's sleep?
Roams he once more unfettered where
Eternal ice-floes sweep?
What memories of the jungle's ways
Does that gaunt tiger keep,
Exiles, they tread their narrow bounds
Behind the iron bars,
For thus the ruthless hand of man
Each God-made creature mars.
But, oh, what hungry eyes they raise
Up to the friendly stars!

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

Sir,—The Victoria Council of Social Agencies has been and is deeply concerned with the continuing increase in juvenile delinquency, and, realizing that healthy mental and physical pursuits are a definite deterrent to delinquency, has set up a playground supervision committee, which committee has been planning a programme and working out its detail for the past three months.

Beacon Hill Park and Central Park have been chosen by the committee as the most desirable locations for the carrying out of playground supervision during the two school holiday months of July and August. The official opening programme for Central Park will be held at 8 p.m., Monday, June 28, and for Beacon Hill Park at the same hour on Tuesday, June 29, to which opening programmes all interested parents and children are welcome.

This letter is mainly motivated by the desire of the committee to obtain the services of public-spirited citizens who are prepared to give an hour or two of their time per week for the eight-week period. These volunteer supervisors will work under a specially trained supervisor at each park and would be required for instructing children in craftwork, industrial arts, sketching, drawing, drama, pottery work or clay modelling or any vocation that will be of benefit to these young people in attendance. This is an urgent appeal for a good cause. Any person who has the ability and can spare an hour or two per week for a period of eight weeks can obtain full information now he or she can help this splendid undertaking by telephoning Mrs. William Blair, Garden 6503, who is our liaison officer for this committee and who will be very pleased to give you all details in connection with our programme. Any small or large contribution of your time in this much-needed juvenile programme will be deeply appreciated by all concerned with this city's delinquency problems.

P. E. GEORGE,
Alderman and Chairman Playground Supervision Committee, Council of Social Agencies.

HOME CANNING

Sir,—I read with interest the letter of K. P. Earle in The Colonist of June 10, regarding the use of fruit preservatives such as Fruit-Kepe, for putting down fruit without sugar.

I used Fruit-Kepe last Fall. As stated in the letter above referred to, it does preserve the fruit in good condition. It does not, however, solve the sugar problem in the slightest degree, as I am now finding out, when preparing the fruit for table use. The fruit preserved with Fruit-Kepe actually requires more sugar when the fruit is taken out of the jars in order to prepare it for eating, than if it had been done with sugar in the first place. The fruit appears to have a considerably greater acid content after being preserved in this way. This has also been the experience of other women of my acquaintance who have used this and other patent fruit preservatives.

There is a strong feeling in this district that large quantities of fruit will be wasted if the present allotment of ten pounds of sugar per person is adherred to. It people who grow their own fruit are not able to can sufficient for their own use, they will have no choice but to try to buy canned fruit in the stores. This is simply making the existing stocks of fruit, which should be available for those who are unable to preserve their own, that much shorter. Thus the situation is aggravated for both city and country residents.

It appears that the needs of sugar for food should be put ahead of sugar for luxuries such as soft drinks and wines. The several million pounds used for these purposes might not solve the problem entirely, but they would enable several millions of quarts of fruit to be canned for use next Winter, which will be wasted otherwise.

Doubtless the Wartime Prices and Trade Board made the best arrangement for the distribution of sugar that seemed possible. However, it appears that several things were overlooked, among them the sugar taken by the wineries and soft drink manufacturers referred to above. The work of the board is exceedingly difficult and I feel that we should co-operate with them as far as possible. However, it is evident that the entire sugar question should be reconsidered and a more equitable allotment made, in order that the stocks available may be used to the best advantage for the greatest number.

According to Culbertson

There is a wide variety of opinion on what constitutes a bad bridge partner. Some experts on this subject hold that a "wild bidder" is their particular anathema, and this view probably is held by the vast majority of players. Personally, however, my own candidate for this dubious honor has always been the sort of partner who just sits and does practically nothing. True, he rarely takes large sets, but this is strictly in line with his policy of not doing anything. The point is that the word "partner" is a silly misnomer as it applies to him. For example:

South, dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

NORTH
♠ K 10 9 7
♥ 10 6
♦ K J
♣ K J 4 3 2

WEST
♠ J 8
♥ K 6
♦ Q 8 5
♣ A Q 10 9 8 6

EAST
♠ 4 3 2
♥ 8 7 3 2
♦ 7 6 4 2
♣ 7 5

SOUTH
♠ A Q 6 5
♥ A Q 9 5
♦ A 10 9 3

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	2 ♣	Double	Pass
3 ♣	Pass	3 N T	Pass
4 ♣	Pass	4 ♥	Pass
Pass	Pass

Presumably North felt that he had done a day's work when he doubled two clubs, and from that time on South had to drag responses out of him. What was worse, these responses were uniformly unresponsive. South's bidding was excellent. Vulnerable against nonvulnerable opponents, and void in clubs, he was understandably unwilling to leave in a low-level penalty double. Not only did he take out that double, however—he took it out with the strongest possible bid, namely a cue bid of the opponent's suit. To this, North made the wooden and entirely unrevealing response of three no trump. What good could that do South? The latter already had taken it for granted that North had clubs pretty well stopped, since he had doubled two clubs.

South gave North another chance to declare himself when he insisted that North name a suit, if possible, over the repeat cue bid of four clubs. Now North really showed his lack of enterprise. Still refusing to name his fair spade suit, he made a bid (four hearts) that could not fail to be interpreted by South as a desperate sign-off. Now, of course, South was through. He could not dream, from North's bidding, that he would find substantial values in both spades and diamonds, apparently all of North's strength was in clubs, and therefore South had no choice but to give up all-slam aspirations.

Obviously, the four heart contract was fulfilled without difficulty, but this was no great consolation to South for the laydown slam that had been missed through North's firm refusal, or his inability, to co-operate.

Delinquency May Be Overcome by Understanding

"In handling ourselves and our children, we should show respect for human behavior, and should try to understand it," Miss Mary Gleeson, B.Sc., assistant professor of sociology at the University of British Columbia, stated in an address before members of the Council of Social Agencies of Victoria at the final meeting of the season held last night.

In an enlightening discussion of problems faced by young people today, Miss Gleeson, who has studied cases of maladjustment in Canada and the United States, declared the situations of young people today in wartime have much the same aspects as in the depression period and require the same kind of handling.

"A good deal of delinquency," she declared, "is simply a protest against some dissatisfaction. We can do a lot to prevent crime," she added, "by realizing the kinds of security people need."

A home, a job and love are the three requirements of a well-adjusted person. To realize the lack of one of these factors in a maladjusted character is to understand to a great extent what is wrong.

The influx of young people from the country into the cities in the present labor shortage has caused problems to arise, Miss Gleeson said. Many of these youngsters have had no experience in choosing their friends, and through loneliness are apt to frequent the wrong kind of company.

Miss Gleeson held up the co-operative boarding houses for young people that are being established in Vancouver as examples of what may be done to overcome such difficulties.

While fully approving the necessity of keeping children in school to complete their education, Miss Gleeson stressed that certain children cannot do their best in the school environment, and would be better off holding a job, where, even if it is not an important position, will give them a feeling of responsibility that is highly beneficial.

The speaker advised the use of counsellors in the schools to help and instruct children planning to leave, as to the wisest course to take.

"The community must realize what happens when a child has to assume the responsibilities of an adult," she declared.

Miss Gleeson gave a number of striking examples of badly maladjusted persons, and showed the tragedy caused by misunderstanding and neglect of a child's emotional development.

To this end the League acknowledges the Bible to be the divinely inspired revelation of God's will to us, in which a means is revealed as the one and only sacrifice for sin, the one and only Saviour, the one and only Mediator between God and man, and the one and only Person to whom all authority in heaven and on earth has been given, and the League therefore acknowledges the Bible as being the supreme authority in religion, and in agreement therewith the League will endeavour to practise, defend, maintain, and propagate the great doctrines and principles of Protestant Reformation.

III MEMBERSHIP

The annual membership fee shall be One Dollar, payable on admission and annually thereafter.

Any person who by signing an application for membership shall declare that he or she is in agreement with Section II of this Constitution, and shall undertake to propagate its principles, and who shall pay the required membership fee, shall thereby become a member and shall receive a membership certificate.

During the coming holiday season, artist visitors to the city will be welcomed by the Sketch Club at their weekly outings.

A delightful "no host" party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Thornbery, 2816 Dewdney Avenue, on Thursday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Hole who are leaving Victoria at the end of June to take up permanent residence in Nanaimo. Mr. Oliver Prentice, on behalf of the assembled guests, presented the couple with a coffee table. Games were played during the evening and refreshments were served buffet-style from a table centred with roses. Among the guests were Capt. and Mrs. H. Saunders, Mrs. M. Tasker, Mrs. A. WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt is reported planning to tour South America this Summer. Honors for Brides-Elect

In compliment to Miss Hilda Ford, a shower was given by Miss Violet McKay and Mrs. C. E. Sherwin, Paddon Avenue, on Thursday evening. The guest of honor received a corsage bouquet of red roses, and her mother, Mrs. Alan Ford, one of pink carnations, on their arrival at the party. The living-rooms were gracefully decorated with blue delphinium and yellow lilies, and the pretty gifts were hidden under a shower umbrella decorated in pink and white. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Ada Fritsch, from a table centred with pink and white carnations. During the evening piano solos, by Miss May Hick, were enjoyed. Three Services Need Every Fit Man and Woman

TORONTO, June 18 (CP)—Every man and woman medically fit is needed in the fighting services, Brigadier James Mess, deputy adjutant-general and director of army recruiting, today told the National Council of Women of Canada at their fiftieth annual conference.

"It's just as important to get a girl in the services as it is to get a man," Brigadier Mess said. "Those in industry may disagree, but every girl or man they lose is no tragedy to them—it's an inconvenience. But our guns and bullets are no value without the men, whom the girls release, over there to use them."

About 170,000 men and women were needed in the services. Of this number 35,000 were being sought for the Canadian Women's Army Corps, 25,000 for the Women's Division of the R.C.A.F. and 5,000 for the Women's Royal Canadian Naval Service.

The problem in recruiting women was the age-old prejudice against a woman doing something she has not been in the habit of doing, said Brigadier Mess.

Social Agencies Condemn Alleged Blind Alley Jobs

A resolution to bring the problem of youths who are being led from school into "blind alley jobs" to the attention of the major social organizations of the city was passed at the final meeting of the Council of Social Agencies, held last night at the Y.W.C.A., with Mr. A. D. Corker acting as chairman.

A letter from Mrs. Dorothy Spurr was read by Mrs. K. Barr, the secretary, in which Mrs. Spurr urged the continuation of at least some of the wartime social projects, such as hostels and hostess clubs, after the war.

It was also suggested in the letter that a clubroom be fitted out for elderly people, where they might meet and join in social activities of their own.

In response to a request from the corresponding secretary of the Registered Nurses' Association, Mrs. K. Barr was chosen to act as a representative to that organization.

An increase in the salaries of professional social workers in the city was advised by an investigating committee.

A report from the playground committee was read, in which it was stated a much wider and more varied round of activities was being planned for the children this Summer.

Miss Joyce Cameron gave an account of the work of the children's committee, stating members had been studying the problem of children roaming the streets at night. Two sub-committees have been formed, under the headings of legislation and education.

Final plans for the flower show to be held on August 18 will be arranged at the meeting of the Langford Institute, to be held next Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the home of Miss L. M. A. Savory, Island Highway. Miss Ruth Corbould, R.N. will also give a talk on "The Peace River Country."

COLWOOD

At a recent meeting of the Colwood Institute it was voted that a protest be made to the Wartime Prices and Trade Board against the use of sugar for wines and soft drinks when it is needed for home canning purposes. Mrs. E. Emery presided at the meeting. The conveners of the senior and junior quilting committees, also the home-cooking and sewing committees gave satisfactory reports of their work. Rev. G. H. Greenhalgh gave a very thoughtful address on "Life in the Home," emphasizing the need of parental control for teen-age children. Mrs. R. B. Murray and Mrs. P. Fraser were hostesses.

Young People's Organizations

ST. JOHN A.Y.P.A.

A very successful "lantern lawn party" was held recently at the Rectory by St. John's A.Y.P.A. for the members and friends of the church congregation. There was also a novelty stall with miscellaneous articles for sale. The proceeds which amounted to over $50 will go to the public address system in the church. A.Y.P.A. members will meet next Tuesday at 8 p.m. for an evening of bowling.

Spectacular Dance Frolic Presented by Wynne Shaw

Sponsored by the Junior W.A. to St. Joseph's Hospital, the spectacular "Victory Frolic of 1943" was presented by Wynne Shaw last evening before an appreciative audience which filled the Royal Victoria Theatre. The proceeds will aid the furnishing of the servicemen's ward at the hospital. Conveners of the evening's entertainment were Mrs. Betty Jones and Miss Rhoda Goward, assisted by the following members of the Junior Auxiliary: Gladwyn Beasley, president; Bernadette Colbert, Claudia Jesse, Hilda Smith, Mrs. D. Kay and Mrs. G. Patterson.

In a quickly moving fantasy displaying originality of ideas combined with artistry of production and execution, the scores of dancers from the tiny tots in fairyland, to the older performers appearing in the exotic Arabian scene created for their audience a world of "make believe," in which the neatly pirouetting figures were colorfully costumed and beautifully trained.

The entertaining programme follows:

Donors and Subscribers Meet at Jubilee Hospital

PREPARATION against possible enemy action, improvement for "protection of patients and to enable the hospital to render the greatest possible assistance to our citizens in any emergency," were highlights in the presidential address presented Friday afternoon by Alderman John A. Worthington at the annual meeting of donors and subscribers to the Royal Jubilee Hospital held in the Nurses' Home.

Special references was made by the president to the establishment of a blood bank, sponsored by the Junior Women's Auxiliary. The Senior Auxiliary was also thanked for gifts to the hospital, and later in the meeting expressions of thanks were accorded both auxiliaries, also to the Daughters of Pity, Alumnae Association of the Royal Jubilee Hospital, Victoria Registered Nurses' Association, Gonzales Chapter, I.O.D.E., Florence Nightingale Chapter, I.O.D.E.; Yarrows Employees' Association, St. John Ambulance Association and the board of directors.

E. W. McMullen, vice-president, read the honorary treasurer's report, compiled by the late J. Vaughan Roberts, which showed "the hospital to be sound financially." Total revenue was $511,482.78, with expenditures, including depreciation for building and equipment of $64,640.32, amounting to $558,163.24. Accounts receivable, investments and inventories of stock on hand amount to $136,351.98.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

Dr. T. W. Walker, superintendent, stated in his report: "The past year has been a very happy one." He spoke of the yeoman service given by V.A.D.'s service, to which has been added another division of the same organization. This nursing auxiliary will now be known by the Order of St. John as the Jubilee Hospital Auxiliary of the St. John Ambulance Association, he said.

"Notwithstanding our difficulties we have had a successful year financially," Dr. Walker reported. "The need for hospitalization is steadily increasing and will continue to increase. General health insurance must necessarily increase hospitalization." He stated: "Our present occupancy of 92 to 100 per cent makes it impossible for us to contemplate an epidemic with equanimity."

RESUME SHOWS RAPID TURNOVER

The secretarial report, delivered by Mr. Charles Morrison, stated that "since 1939 the number of patients admitted has increased by 27 per cent, while patient days are up only 14.5 per cent. This implies a very rapid turnover."

A Summary
1942

Patients admitted	7,756
Hospital days' treatment	114,042
Surgical operations	3,116
Prescriptions filled in pharmacy	28,247
Average patients per day	312
Average days' stay	14.1

Continuing, Mr. Morrison's report read: "Since 1939, then, total expenditure has increased by 27 per cent, and payroll is up 26.3 per cent. Against this, the total of fees charged to patients has risen 20 per cent, and total revenue 32.6 per cent." He said 27 per cent higher total cost, therefore, works out to an increase of 5.8 per cent per unit of service, and that is the true amount of the increase in our operating costs."

The past year has brought unusual expenditures, Air Raid Precautions, war risk insurance and preparation for possible emergencies. "Being prepared is expensive; being unprepared would be disastrous," he said. Labor costs, he believed, would be heavier, "at peak occupancy nursing, domestic, clerical and special professional staffs are overloaded, and if our wards continue to be filled to capacity more help must be engaged. There is no doubt about it, hospital service is going to cost more in wages."

DIRECTORS RE-ELECTED

Re-election of the four retiring directors took place, including Mrs. E. Sheppard, Mr. Charles Williams, Mr. E. E. Henderson and Mr. G. H. Stevens.

Capt. George McGregor urged the necessity of more building for further accommodation.

As usual, all present were provided with complete reports of the past year.

Summer School to Solve Problem for Victoria Mothers

The problem of little Johnny's and Mary's first day at school may be solved by some Victoria mothers this Summer by entering their youngsters in a beginners' class which is being organized in connection with the Provincial Summer School of Education, which will open at the Victoria High School on Wednesday, June 30.

This class, which will be used for demonstration purposes by the teachers attending Summer School, is for pupils who normally would enter school in September. It will be an easy way to introduce little children to the great incident of "school," which occasionally presents problems for the nervous youngster, say officials.

School hours will be from 9:30 to 11 a.m., and school will last five weeks. Parents of five-year-old children who wish to enter them in this class are asked to telephone the Summer School of Education, E 5024.

The class instructor will be Miss Lucille Wall, an expert in kindergarten - primary methods, brought here from Compton, Calif., and Miss Marion James, primary supervisor for Victoria.

FINDS RING ON POTATO

PENTICTON, June 18 (CP).—A hint to Victory gardeners—try planting a few seeds and see what you will find. Mrs. C. E. Rathbone was digging up her first Spring potatoes when she uncovered a peculiarly-shaped one. The potato was "wearing" a valuable diamond ring which a friend had lost twelve years before.

Well and truly censored was a letter received by a Dublin newspaper. From a reader in Lyons, it reached Eire via Switzerland and bore French, English and German censorship stamps.

At the Theatres

DOMINION THEATRE The terrors of war, the blessings of peace and the glories of achievement are skilfully blended in "Forever and a Day," a gripping story of the road traveled by seven generations of a typical English family founded in 1804. Among the more than seventy-eight distinguished players seen in this Anglo-American production now showing at the Dominion Theatre, are Herbert Marshall, Ray Milland, Charles Laughton, Brian Aherne, Merle Oberon and Donald Crisp.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRES The picturesque color of New York City's great East Side is the locale for the story of "Kid Dynamite," the Monogram comedy-drama which will end tonight at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres. The appropriately-named East Side Kids, headed by Leo Gorcey, Bobby Jordan, Hunts Hall and Gabriel Dell have the featured roles. The film affords a revealing picture of the city's teeming slum districts, as the background for a story which is filled with thrilling events.

RIO THEATRE "Smart Alecks," the new Monogram picture starring the redoubtable East Side Kids will end tonight at the Rio Theatre. Leo Gorcey, Bobby Jordan, Hunts Hall, Gabriel Dell and the other East Siders give their customary forthright performances. The romantic interest is well maintained by Roger Pryor and Gale Storm, and Maxie Rosenbloom is seen as an underworld gangster who is the source of the difficulties encountered by all the other characters.

YORK THEATRE The screen version of the New York stage success, "The Man Who Came to Dinner," will end tonight at the York Theatre. The comedy stars Monty Woolley in the title role with Bette Davis and Ann Sheridan co-starred. Surrounding the stars is a brilliant supporting cast, including Jimmy Durante, Billie Burke, Richard Travis, Reginald Gardiner, Grant Mitchell and Elisabeth Fraser.

ATLAS THEATRE "Random Harvest," starring Ronald Colman and Greer Garson, will close tonight at the Atlas Theatre. Playing opposite Colman, Miss Garson portrays the role of a warm-hearted showgirl who falls in love with a soldier amnesia victim of the last war. After a tender romance, they are separated by fate and then find each other again under the most exciting of circumstances.

CADET THEATRE The first screen story of American fighter pilots in the Royal Air Force is told in the film, "Eagle Squadron," which will end tonight at the Cadet Theatre, with Robert Stack and Diana Barrymore in the leading roles. Authentic highlights in the picture include a raid by the British Commandos, scenes of modern warfare in the clouds, and a close-up view of war work by women.

CAPITOL THEATRE "The Moon Is Down," the story of a Norwegian village after the Nazi invasion, will close tonight at the Capitol Theatre. John Steinbeck's unforgettable novel that tells the story of a people who refuse to be conquered, is brought to the screen in a stunning picture that, according to reports, will live in the hearts of all freedom-loving people.

New Colored Musical Coming to Capitol

20th Century-Fox's musical film "Hello, Frisco, Hello," starring Alice Faye, John Payne and Lynn Bari comes to the Capitol Theatre next Monday.

Filmed in Technicolor, the picture is set in old San Francisco's Barbary Coast. John plays the part of a young man who although born on the wrong side of the tracks manages to pull himself up by his boot straps until he is in a position to buy whatever he wants.

Lovely blonde Alice Faye is cast as a belle of the Barbary Coast whose rival for Johnny's attentions is the svelte brunette, Lynn Bari. The picture abounds in song, music and spectacular dance sequences.

More than 400 tons of food were grown in Britain's Royal Parks during 1942.

VANCOUVER, June 18 (CP).—A resolution urging establishment of a prohibition party in Canada was rejected by the British Columbia regular Baptists in convention here. Another resolution favoring the principles of temperance and commending the stand taken by British Columbia churches against the use of liquor was adopted.

Finance–Commerce–Markets

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, June 18 (AP).—Selected stocks made idle passes at recovery in today's market, but many leaders failed to emerge from the losing column.

Again the session was one of the slowest of the year despite a few large blocks of low-priced issues. Prices slipped after a fairly good opening. There were scattered comebacks near the finish. Declines and gains of fractions to a point or more were pretty evenly divided at the close.

The War Labor Board decision in the coal mine case came a bit too late to have much influence on trends although U.S. Steel and Bethlehem, under water most of the day, ended with minor advances.

The Associated Press sixty-stock average was off .1 of a point at 50.5. Of 826 issues traded, 307 were down, 305 up, and 214 unchanged. Transfers of 682,590 shares were the smallest for a full session since January 20. They compared with 740,670 Thursday.

DOW JONES AVERAGES

Thirty industrials, 139.68, down .17.
Twenty rails, 35.19, down .19.
Fifteen utilities, 22.27, up .03.
Total sales, 682,000 shares.

TESTING WHITEWATER MINES

VANCOUVER, June 18 (CP).—Under agreement whereby Kootenay Belle has the right to acquire 60 per cent interest in Whitewater Mines, work is proceeding at Whitewater to determine whether ore tonnage warrants an operation. The programme includes diamond drilling and underground work. A report on results is expected shortly.

Labor Shortage May Halt Gold Belt Operation

VANCOUVER, June 18 (CP).—Shortage of labor may force Gold Belt Mine to stop operations shortly, it was reported by the company [illegible] factor governing operations at the mine last year. Cutting down of development to keep ore supplies ahead of mill consumption resulted in estimated blocked and broken ore reserves declining from 39,000 to 11,680 tons.

Total gross value of bullion produced in the year ended March 31, was $603,461, compared with $659,602 for 1941. Balance carried to surplus amounted to $57,053.

Local Wholesale Produce Market

A carload of grapefruit arrived on wholesale row Thursday, but they remain very scarce, and officials are unable to say when the next shipments will be in.

Yakima cherries, of nice quality, though high in price, appeared yesterday, and apricots are due on Monday. Watermelon continues scarce and fairly high.

Officials state that strawberry prices will remain high. They are now selling for 20 cents a basket retail. Hulled strawberries for preserving and jam will be available next, and householders are advised to place their orders early, as there is a very short crop this year.

The last three carloads of California potatoes will appear on Monday. A few locals are coming in steadily, but not in sufficient quantity to supply the demand.

Hothouse tomatoes are reported to be firmer, and selling satisfactorily.

What Today Means

"GEMINI"

If June 19 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:45 to 11:45 a.m., from 1:45 to 3:45 p.m., and from 7:45 to 9:45 p.m. The danger periods are from 7:45 to 9:45 a.m., from 5:45 to 7:45 p.m., and from 9:45 to 11:45 p.m.

This is one day when it might be well for you to keep one eye on the clock if you have an engagement, for the average person is apt to become extremely irritated if kept waiting. Today it might be well to consult the convenience of other people before paying them an unexpected visit, if you do not wish to upset previously made plans. This is a good day not to interrupt busy people with a lot of unimportant questions, if you wish to keep on friendly terms with them. Playing fast and loose with anyone's affection will be a dangerous game to indulge in, especially if you enjoy their full confidence. Married and engaged couples, as well as sweethearts, will do well to recognize that "what's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander," and that there cannot be two codes governing their personal conduct if happiness is to prevail.

If a woman and June 19 is your birthday, you may derive as much pleasure from books as you do from people, so cultivate the habit of reading should you find time hanging heavy on your hands. The fewer people you place yourself under obligations to the more independent you can be, especially when it comes to doing the things you may want to do. You should never concede to anyone the right to do your thinking for you, especially when it comes to directing your activities. Only through maintaining your personal independence can you expect to command the respect that is rightfully due you. As an office or business manager, demonstrator, sales agent, author, news reporter, actress, musician, singer, secretary, public stenographer, or through defence work, you should be able to make a name and place for yourself in the world of affairs. Marriage should aid rather than handicap you in the realization of some of your fondest hopes.

The child born on June 19 may have to learn to combat a tendency to be shy and more interested in books than people. Impress on this youngster the importance of making friends and taking an active interest in their activities. An ingenious mind, for devising efficient methods, will probably prove this youngster to be unusually resourceful and result in its ultimate success.

If a man and June 19 is your natal day a tendency to be sarcastic may be one of your greatest faults, so do your best to overcome it. Good business judgment and a pleasing personality should enable you to attain a high degree of success as an electrician, engineer, sales representative, financier, theatrical manager, educator, soldier, sailor, aviator, business exutive, journalist, publisher, writer, publicity expert, or in work of an artistic nature.

An absent-minded woman had insisted upon being operated for appendicitis.

Some time after her recovery she turned up at the consulting-room and asked the doctor if he would mind telling her what he had found in her appendix.

"Well," said the doctor, "I may as well admit to you that yours was the most extraordinary case I have ever handled. I never found anything like it in an appendix before. You will hardly believe it, but I found several small hard seeds."

"Oh," said the woman, "that accounts for our having no sweet peas last year. I must have sown the pills."

Glancing Over Sport—

By JOE DELAHUNTY

FROM HERE AND THERE

Was talking to a native of Salt [illegible] corner and he told me a funny, if not, a humorous story, and it is based around my old friend, Lee Hallberg, baseball announcer, fisherman de luxe, publicity agent for the "rowboat Derby" and what have you. When Lee reads this he will start searching for the chap who spun the yarn, so here goes: Apparently Hallberg and his party went fishing for bass in St. Mary's Lake on the island, and they had a certain amount of success, but Announcer Lee ran into plenty of trouble. The commentator of baseball games throws a fly like I swing a golf club at times. The fly back-fire and what do you think happened; nothing, except it flew back and landed square in the middle of Hallberg's chin. There was no way of getting the fly and hook out so the party headed back for the city via the ferry. A doctor was called upon and when he glanced at Lee he said: "What do you want, a shave? That's about the prettiest goatee I have ever seen, orange-colored and everything, and it really is a shame to part with it." Hallberg, still very red in the face, wanted action and he finally got it, but he paid for it "through the chin" . . . Yours truly is going to protect the fellow who told the story, for I know Lee will be out gunning from this morning on . . . Ran into my old friend, Bill Chidgey, one of the best known race riders on the continent a few years back, and we were talking about horse racing, of course, particularly Johnny Longden and Count Fleet. "Johnny is one of the best race riders in the game, not because he is up on Count Fleet these days, but because he has brains and knows how to handle any mount given him. Longden is never more than two inches off the saddle at any time. Any good jockey will ride that way, for it takes the pressure off the horse's kidneys. Sonny Workman, Bud Ensor and Johnny Longden are my choices for the top riders, and I have seen them all and rode against them in the last dozen years or more," stated Bill. The ex-jockey had his ups and downs when in the saddle. He won the Canadian Derby aboard Caramar at Winnipeg in 1934, beating out Purple Rock, Scarlet Runner and Pert Peggy, was second the following year on Marcus Docile when Willie Molter won with Nellie Quince, and Johnny Longden was in the show position with Broadway Breeze. However, Longden had the jump on Bill, for he rode Broadway Breeze to victory in the Winnipeg Futurity and nosed out "Chid" by a whisker in 1934. The same year Bill was fourth in the Alberta Derby when Dr. Hoey was his mount, and second the next time out while piloting Marcus Docile.

ODDS AND ENDS

The Solarium Trophy still hasn't a showcase to call its own. Victoria Machinery Depot and Royal Air Force soccer elevens battled through ninety minutes Thursday evening and wound up with the score deadlocked at two-all. Football Commissioner Pat Mulcahy rushed up into the grandstand just before time to get the women's president of the Solarium Junior League lined up to present the silverware to the skipper of the winning club, which, at that moment, thought Pat, was the shipyarders. Before he could make final plans the whistle sounded out on the playing pitch, and it was a penalty awarded to the airmen. The spot kick found the net four minutes from time and that was that . . . The three games so far have netted the "league" in the vicinity of $250, and that's not counting the ticket sale at the shipbuilding plant prior to the third match. Close to 1,000 fans watched what should have been the last game. Next Tuesday evening the teams will go at it again and, just to play no favorites, Patrick is bringing a referee from Vancouver to handle the whistle. Murray is the man the commissioner is after . . . Supporters of the R.A.F. will be out in full force as already they have ordered 500 tickets sent out to the airport, but, still at the same the builders of Liberty ships will have plenty of rooters on hand . . . Remember when: Morley Lewis, of Texarcana, Tex., won the Canadian tennis singles championship at Windsor by defeating Bob Madden, of Detroit, 6-2, 8-2, 6-3? That is just four years ago. He also teamed with Chicago's Frank Froehling to outplay the Ontario titlists, Bill Pedlar and Phil Pearson, for the doubles honors . . . Also remember when: The all-England lawn tennis tournament, held at the famous Wimbledon courts in London, was canceled for the "duration?" Just go back three years ago for that item. This event always drew the world's greatest tennis players and they were all supposed to be "amateurs."

Way In Choice To Win Classic

Picked to Win English Derby At Newmarket Track Today

LONDON, June 18 (CP).—Lord Astor's Way In probably will go to the post the favorite in the Derby premier event in Britain's racing season, to be held at Newmarket Saturday.

At yesterday's call-over here Way In remained top choice at 11-2 in a field of twenty-three horses.

Last-minute money made Merchant Navy second joint favorite with King's Way at 7-1. The largest horse in the race, Merchant Navy stands seventeen hands.

The Derby carries a purse of 2,000 sovereigns added to the winner, while the Oaks stake is 1,000 sovereigns added.

Here are the entries in both classics, with horses, owners, jockeys and odds:

Way In, Lord Astor (C. Richards), 11-2; Merchant Navy, A. Hedley (W. Nevett), 7-1; Kingsway, A. E. Saunders (S. Wragg), 7-1; High Chancellor, Lieut.-Col. H. Hornung (P. Smith), 9-1; Umiddad, Aga Khan (C. Elliott), 19-2; Nasrullah, Aga Khan (G. Richards), 10-1; Pink Flower, Capt. A. Gillson (T. Lowry), 21-2; Straight Deal, Dorothy Paget (T. NEWMARKET, England, June 18 (CP).—James V. Rank's filly, Why Hurry, a 7-to-1 choice in the betting, won the classic Oaks today, running the mile-and-a-half course in 2:33 1-5.

Why Hurry came up from the pack to win in the last furlong. Charlie Elliott rode the winner.

Ribbon, owned by Lord Roseberry, was second, and Tropical Sun, the strong favorite at 2 to 4, was third. Britain's champion jockey, Gordon Richards, was aboard Tropical Sun.

The King, who has no entries this year in The Oaks or Derby, which is to be run tomorrow, had the winner in today's first race when Putting Green carried the Royal colors to an unexpected victory over the favorite, Candrema.

Mrs. B. Lavingston's Fair Fame, a 15-to-2 shot ridden by Frankie Lane, won the five furlongs of the Queen Mary Stakes, second went to Dorothy Paget's Charwoman and third to Picture Play, owned by J. H. Noel.

The Coronation Cup of a mile and one-half was won by Lord Roseberry's Hyperide, favorite at 7 to 4. A. E. Ainatt's Shahpoor was second, and Ujin, stablemate of Shahpoor, was third. The entry was held at 7 to 1.

Canadian Derby Set for July 1

WINNIPEG, June 18 (CP).—The third running of the Canadian Derby, a $5,000 stake, will be staged at Polo Park July 1 instead of July 5, it was announced today by Winnipeg Jockey Club officials.

The change of date was required when Dominion Government authorities switched the date of Dominion Day celebrations from July 5 back to July 1.

Forty-one Eastern and Western Canadian thoroughbreds have qualified for the event, the second richest stake in the Dominion.

Dates for the Winnipeg Futurity and the Polo Park Handicap have also been changed with the former now scheduled for July 3 and the latter July 5.

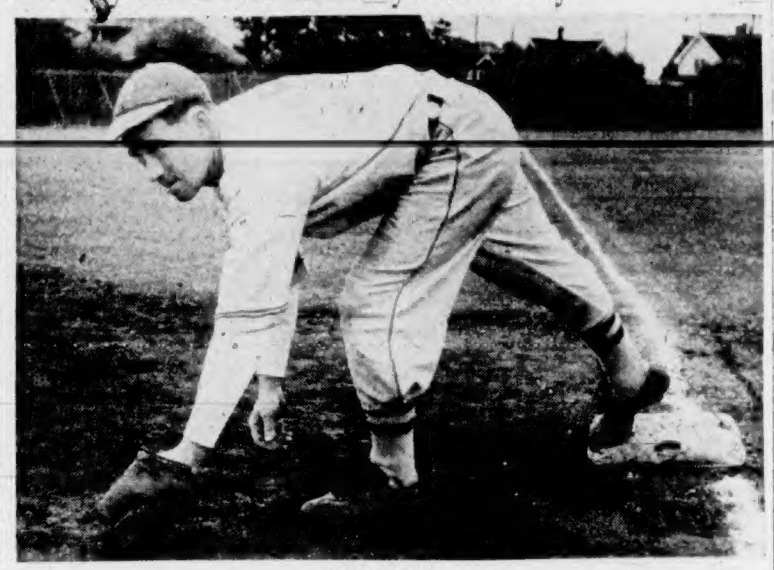
Will Play Third Base for Army Club Today



RAY CASEY

Soldier third sacker, who will be at the "hot corner" this afternoon when the Army baseballers oppose the Royal Canadian Air Force in the matinee attraction of today's double card at Royal Athletic Park. After taking the V.M.D. and Navy in their stride, troops have visions of turning back the Flyers and gaining on the pace-setting shipbuilders. Airmen gave the champions plenty of trouble last night at the ball yard before dropping a 9-7 decision, and hope to get back in the win column at the expense of the soldiers. Nightcap attraction will bring together V.M.D. and Eagles, with "Copper" Ray Maitland, who took the Army to ten innings, billed to hurl for the cellar occupants. Afternoon fixture is slated for 2:30 o'clock, with the evening game set for 6:30 o'clock.

Reds Eke Out 1-0 Win on Pittsburgh In Fourteen Frames

Cleveland Indians Also Take Prolonged Game From Chicago

NATIONAL LEAGUE

PITTSBURGH, June 18 (AP).—Cincinnati Reds got the jump over Pittsburgh's Buccaneers today as they opened a four-game series with third place in the National League standings at stake by taking a 1-0 decision in fourteen innings behind superb hurling by Ray Starr.

Starr, thirty-seven-year-old mound sensation, and Max Butcher staged the closest pitching duel of the season here. The contest was enlivened by seven double plays, four by the Pirates.

After permitting two hits in the fifth, Starr allowed but three more men to get on base, two by singles and one on a pass. One of these was erased by a double play.

Braves Beat Giants

BOSTON, June 18 (AP).—The Braves tried to hand a ball game to New York Giants today, but Chet Ross wouldn't let them.

After three Braves errors had given the Giants a pair of tallies and a two-run lead in the eighth inning, Ross came along as a pinch-hitter with two down and two on board in the ninth and blasted one of Johnny Wittig's shots over the left centrefield fence for a home that gave Boston an 8-6 victory.

Sixth-Inning Uprising

BROOKLYN, June 18 (AP).—After being held to one hit for five innings, the Phillies lit the fuse in a big sixth inning today, practically blew the Dodgers out of the park with a nine-run explosion, and went on to knock off the Bums, 10-8.

This lifted the "Phantastic Phils" into the National League's first division, since Pittsburgh lost. It also marked the fifth straight setback—the seventh in eight starts—for the desperate Dodgers, and left them with just a slim one-game hold on second place.

Lloyd Dietz, the brand new refugee from Pittsburgh and third Phil flinger of the afternoon, was the winner, holding the Brooklyns to four hits down the last four frames.

ST. LOUIS, June 18 (AP).—The St. Louis Cardinals looked anything but like the 1942 world champions tonight, in losing to the Chicago Cubs in a frenzied seventh inning. The Cubs scored four runs without a hit, breaking a two-inning tie and scoring again in the ninth to win 6—1.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

NEW YORK, June 18 (AP).—Tex Hughson pinned the Yankees' ears back today for the seventh straight time in two years. He turned in a four-hitter, fanned nine and batted in a run as he led Boston Red Sox to a 3-1 victory over the American League champions.

During the proceedings, his most "friendly" foe turned out to be Joe Gordon, who had one of his worst days as a Yankee, committing two errors, both of which had something to do with the Red Sox runmaking, and fanning three straight times, which boosted his total "whiffs" for the year to 38.

The victory was Hughson's seventh of the season against three setbacks. The only thing that kept him from a shutout today was Johnny Lindell's 420-foot triple and a long fly that produced the Yanks' tally in the second.

Hank Borowy was the loser.

CHICAGO, June 18 (AP).—The Cleveland Indians scored two runs on four singles in the fourteenth inning shortly after midnight to take a 3-1 overtime duel from the Chicago White Sox. Vern Kennedy, who pitched shutout ball after taking the mound in the seventh, was the winning pitcher. Edgar Smith went the route for the Sox.

PHILADELPHIA, June 18 (CP).—Milo Candini won his sixth game for Washington Senators tonight against no defeats, but had to go eleven innings before gaining a 4-2 victory over the third-place Athletics in a night game before 16,427 at Shibe Park.

The winning runs came in the eleventh off Relief Pitcher Everett Fagan, who came in after Luman Harris retired in favor of a pinch-hitter in the ninth.

Mickey Vernon singled to start the eleventh. A balk put him on second from where Bob Johnson singled him home. Johnson stole second and raced home on Jake Early's one-baser. The A's went out in order in their half.

DETROIT, June 18 (AP).—The up-and-coming St. Louis Browns hammered three pitchers for fourteen hits good for twenty-three bases in a twilight game tonight to take the opener of a four-game series with Detroit Tigers, 7-4.

Led by Vern Stephens, who gathered two homers and a double and drove in three runs, the Browns lashed away at Hal White, Roy Henshaw and Frank (Stubs) Overmire to gain their seventh victory in ten games.

Sports Club Loses To Unitys, 21-19

Unloading on Pitcher Anna Milliken with a nine-run offensive in the sixth inning, Unitys last night defeated Sports Club, 21-19, in a free-scoring women's softball fixture at Central Park. It was the first setback of the season for the clubbers and dropped them into second place, two points back of the undefeated Adverts.

On the other diamond at Central Park, Bob White's Adverts kept their winning streak intact by trouncing Victoria Paper Box, 22-3, in a one-sided contest.

Gunder Haegg and Greg Rice Will Meet on Track in A.A.U. Meet

NEW YORK, June 18 (AP).—Track and field's greatest show in many a year will be staged here tomorrow and Sunday when the pick of American athletes plus Sweden's great Gunder Haegg come together in the national A.A.U. junior and senior championships.

The twenty-one junior events and three of the senior numbers, 1,500 and 10,000-metre runs and 3,000-metre walk, will be decided tomorrow. The remaining eighteen senior championships will go on the block Sunday with Haegg, world record holder at seven distances from 1,500 to 5,000 metres, making his American debut against Ensign Joseph Gregory Rice, the United States' premier distance runner and unbeaten in his last sixty-five starts.

Haegg and Rice will contest the issue over 5,000 with the slim Swedish ace favorite to take the crown worn by Greg the last five years. Since arriving in the United States two weeks ago, after twenty-six days on a tanker, Haegg has been training at Dartmouth and is said to be in fine shape. Rice, stationed at the Merchant Marine Academy, Kings Point, L.I., has not run in competition since the Penn relays in April.

Flyers Make Great Bid for Victory Over Champions

R.C.A.F. Baseballers Stage Grand Rally but Lose to V.M.D., 9-7

Navy	11	6	5	.545
R.C.A.F.	11	5	6	.455
Eagles	10	0	10	.000

Last night's score:
V.M.D. 9, R.C.A.F. 7.

Today's games:
2:30—R.C.A.F. vs. Army.
6:30—Eagles vs. V.M.D.

Coach Brian Forster's Royal Canadian Air Force baseballers dropped a 9-7 verdict to the champion Victoria Machinery Depot last night at Royal Athletic Park, but the airmen certainly threw quite a scare into the shipbuilders' camp before the exciting contest was over.

Flyers, showing plenty of power with the willow, actually outhit the V.M.D., fifteen to nine, but just could not put their base blows together at the right moments to score runs. Airmen gave Jack Coughlin, starting hurler, quite a reception once they got to his offerings, and when the situation looked dangerous in the eighth Coach Laurel Harney replaced the former Prairie hurler with Cy Shillito.

Airmen used three hurlers against the defending champions, and while they lost a ball game they certainly made things interesting from the fifth frame to the finish. Flyers were on the wrong end of a 9-1 score going into the sixth sessions and when the fixture ended they were only two tallies behind the champions.

Walter Beckwill, six foot two righthander, opened for the losers and had trouble with his control. Tallest member of the flyers' mound staff, Beckwill only gave up one base hit in two and one-third frames, but was certainly generous with free transportation.

The big flinger gave the fans a thrill in the second frame when he walked the first two batters and then retired the side via the strike-out route.

"Major" Martin was the next pitcher. He worked for two and one-third frames and bumped into a lot of trouble. Shipbuilders punched out seven safeties and scored six runs during his sojourn on the mound.

"HAP" ROGERS FINALLY STOPS THE CHAMPIONS

Next came "Hap" Rogers, and he was the most successful of the trio of R.C.A.F. pitchers. Rogers hurled four frames and only yielded a lone base hit. He stopped the V.M.D. from adding to their run total.

Jerry Ray, flyers, was the evening's top sticker, with three doubles out of four trips to the plate.

V.M.D.'s Ian Lowe, flashy short stop, finally went hitless, being unable to poke out a base knock in three trips to the plate. In ten earlier contests Lowe hit safely at least once.

Parent, flyers' short stop, who lifted the ball over the Pembroke Street fence for the airmen's first run of the ball game, was finally successful in his appeals to Umpire George Syrotuck to have Cy Shillito, V.M.D. pitcher, take the resin bag out of his back pocket. Mr. Shillito had his own private resin bag and, contrary to rules, kept it in his pocket. Mr. Parent appeared happy at his success, but the V.M.D. pitcher was not quite so pleased.

Flyers will return to the Caledonia Avenue ball yard this afternoon to oppose the Army, and if they display as much power at the plate the soldier hurlers are going to have a busy afternoon. However, the troops have hit peak form with victories over the V.M.D. and Navy and should rule slight favorites over the airmen.

Nightcap fixture at the local ball park will bring together the top and bottom clubs—V.M.D. and the Eagles. "Copper" Ray Maitland will pitch for the cellar occupants, and Cy Shillito will probably return to the mound for the shipyard workers.

Keen Competition At School Sports

Thrilling Finishes Feature of Annual Track and Field Meet

Keen competition was the keynote of the annual track and field meet of the Victoria elementary schools held yesterday afternoon at Royal Athletic Park, and witnessed by hundreds of non-competing students and proud parents.

Well organized and run off with the minimum of delays, the lengthy programme was completed in little over two hours. Just as fast as one event was completed, competitors for the next race were at the starting point awaiting the crack of the starter's gun.

Many of the events were run in heats in order to accommodate the large number of entries, and like the finals, were keenly contested.

In addition to sprints and relay races, novelty events were included on the extensive programme.

Members of the Victoria School Board were special guests and enjoyed the many fine events staged during the afternoon.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 18 (AP).—Here it is past the middle of June and there hasn't been a major golf tournament yet—which makes it the first June without one since the other war.

Clark Griffith, who ought to know, says that Ty Cobb was a far better base stealer than George Case but Case is a faster runner. Griff says he had timed Case at 9.8 for 100 yards in a baseball uniform . . . While Billy Talbert and Pancho Segura appear to be starting a Summer-long rivalry for the top tennis spot, Sam Hardy argues that Bobby Falkenburg is the best prospect who is likely to perform this season. Bobby, he says, is "a natural fighter who reminds me of Billy Johnston."

Sport Snapshots

(Scott Young, originator of Sport Snapshots and now attached to London Bureau of The Canadian Press, returns to Snapshots for a day with his views on English golf.)

By SCOTT YOUNG
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MAIDENHEAD, Eng., June 18 (CP).—A day-long study of English golfing style reveals only one pertinent fact: That a good golfer can play just as well with a string of fighting aircraft drumming overhead as he can without.

The Forts were overhead all through this match—a war charity affair over thirty-six holes by four of England's finest golfers—but there wasn't a putt missed or a drive held up because of their presence, thumping homeward after a bombing raid over France.

Even while four Spitfires rolled out of a tight formation and played follow-the-leader in ever-decreasing circles directly over our heads, these baggy-trousered veterans played top-flight golf, ignoring them. The gallery, with a few exceptions, did likewise.

Art Havers, a big man with a full moon face and ruddy bald spot fringed by thick and wavy white hair, was top man in aplomb. Just at the second the Spits peeled off in screaming dives above us, Havers lifted an approach from 165 yards off the third green and rimmed the cup. It would have been an eagle two had it sunk. Spits and all, he got a birdie.

Havers, who qualified for the 1914 open at the age of sixteen, and broke the chain of American successes with a victory in that event in 1923, was the best golfer in the match. He and his partner, thirty-nine-year-old Arthur Lacey, former Belgian and French champion, beat Len Holland, former West of England champion, and Charlie Whitecombe, twice a P.G.A. winner, two up.

WOULD FIND IT TOUGH

The mechanics of playing match golf in wartime Britain are so far removed from the accepted North American standard that it probably would take the best American pros some time to hit form on an English [illegible] keepers and the greens have suffered accordingly. The fairway grass is cut only in spots—usually starting about 175 yards from the tee. This certainly is no place for duffs.

In addition, on all courses, a percentage of the fairways have had to be placed under cultivation. On three holes here, all but a fifteen-foot strip down the middle of the fairways was planted to wheat for 175 yards, then the open strip widened to sixty feet. Into the grain is out of bounds with loss of stroke and distance the penalty.

The gallery was about 400 people, paying three and six (about 84 cents) a throw to watch the match and tossing a shilling (24 cents) each into the tins held by club members every time anyone scored a birdie. There were fourteen birdies in eighteen holes. The Lord Mayor's Empire Air Raid Distress Fund benefitted accordingly.

Most interesting from the strictly historical standpoint, was an auction held in the brilliant sunshine, Forts still stooging overhead, on the eighteenth green at conclusion of the match. A twenty-six-ounce bottle of whisky went for two pounds, ten shillings (about $11), a twenty-six-ounce bottle of gin, for about $12, a grapefruit, apple, orange and lemon for about $12, and a dozen golf balls (peacetime price about 50 cents each) for $30. All proceeds went to the fund.

Half Million From Baseball

Diamond Sport to Aid War Relief

NEW YORK, June 18 (AP).—Baseball wheeled out its big guns for an all-out war relief barrage today and "Head Gunner" Kenesaw Mountain Landis aimed them at $500,000 target for the diamond's three-day benefit programme this Summer.

Through National League President Ford Frick, baseball's high commissioner outlined plans for the game's first "united" relief card and announced that he hopes the eight games each on June 30 and July 28 and the all-star game in Philadelphia on July 13 will produce that amount.

All receipts in both leagues for those days will be dropped into the pot, from which the first $100,000 will go to the bat-and-ball fund and the rest to various relief agencies, to be announced later.

This year's set-up marks the first time baseball has plotted such an all-out united programme.

This time, every big league game on June 30 and on July 28 will be turned over to the project. On the first card, in addition to the Giants and Cardinals, the National League programme presents Cincinnati Reds at Brooklyn in an afternoon twilight twin bill, Chicago Cubs at Boston in another double-header and the Phillies entertaining Pittsburgh Pirates in a night tussle. The American League has the Athletics at St. Louis, Boston at Detroit and New York Yankees at Cleveland in night games and Washington Senators at Chicago.

For the July 28 set-up, the American League will have the eastern spots—in Washington, Philadelphia, New York and Boston—while the senior circuit swatters will entertain at Chicago, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and St. Louis. Landis figures each day will produce $200,000 or so and the all-star game about another $100,000.

Take Steps to Curb Illegal Use Of Liquor Permits

In an effort to curb the illegal use of liquor permits, all men and women in the army and air force will require to have their permits stamped by their orderly-room officer, it was announced by Liquor Commissioner W. F. Kennedy yesterday. The navy also is expected to co-operate with the Liquor [illegible] in like manner.

The familiar sight of uniformed customers obtaining permits at one counter of a vendor's store and walking across the floor to be served by a clerk no longer will be seen. Such permits first must be scrutinized by the orderly-room officer and stamped. The name of the holder and permit number will then be recorded. Only one permit will be stamped.

Reports to the Liquor Board say that much of the liquor supply held by bootleggers has come from men in the services. Bootleggers are said to pay $2 more than the legal price per bottle. When the matter was called to the attention of high-ranking officers of the Army and Air Force, the latter readily agreed to assist in stamping out the illegal practice. The matter now is being taken up with the Navy Command.

Businessmen Show Interest in Plant

About twenty members of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce showed keen interest yesterday in the machinery and operation of the Sidney Roofing and Paper Company plant, which they visited on the invitation of the company.

Led by R. Logan Mayhew, managing director; A. J. Saunders, resident engineer; and H. D. Genn, advertising manager, the party saw two paper machines, and one roofing and one saturating machine in operation, and inspected the finishing room and shipping department.

Victorians Hear Of Relatives Held At Singapore Camp

Next of kin of three Canadians interned by the Japanese at Changi Camp on the island of Singapore reside in Victoria, according to a list of twenty-four Canadian internees at the camp made public by the External Affairs Department at Ottawa last night. More names are expected shortly.

One of the men is G. W. Piercy, whose wife, at 1284 Beach Drive, has already heard of her husband's internment. A native son of Victoria, Mr. Piercy had spent thirteen years with an engineering company in Singapore.

Others named were J. H. B. Will, whose next of kin is listed as his mother, Mrs. W. B. Will, 3170 Frechette Street, and George Wiseman, whose brother-in-law, E. R. Johnson, lives at Royal Oak.

Alderman Returns From Trail Visit

Ald. John A. Worthington and Mrs. Worthington returned to their home here yesterday morning after spending a holiday at Trail with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lendrum.

While at Vancouver for three days, Alderman Worthington conferred with F. W. Wilfert, wood production officer, and E. Wilbert Bourque, regional fuel officer, Department of Munitions and Supply. They assured him that the city would not lose money on bush wood being cut at Goldstream to fill emergency fuel orders next Winter.

Alderman Worthington also visited a factory at Vancouver where pre-fabricated buildings are being constructed for army use. He was informed that it would be possible after the war to produce a four-room dwelling that could be sold for $1,200 and erected in eight and one-half hours, he said.

He also went to the Hayes-Anderson Manufacturing Co., Ltd., plant where a large garbage trailer is being constructed for use here by the city.

Forest L. Shaw Tells Story of City Real Estate

The story of how the city of Victoria became the largest real estate dealer on the Island, even though unwilling to go into the business, was concisely told at the Real Estate Board's luncheon meeting in Spencer's dining-room yesterday by Forest L. Shaw, city solicitor, who stated that today Victoria's assessment figure of $18,547,514 is the lowest since 1909.

"Not only have we the lowest assessment figure since the boom began, but the lowest reversion of property, forty-two lots as compared with the peak of 11,089 parcels of land reverting in 1921," he said, "and now we can say that we have reached a stable period."

There are in the city 560 parcels of land definitely exempt from taxation because they are owned by the Dominion Government or charitable institutions, and well over 17,000 that should bring in taxes to cover the city debt and to meet the regular administration costs, stated the city solicitor. This placed an unfair amount of taxes on citizens owning property and paying, although the city had been able to reduce the mill rate to 37 per thousand.

The city owns 4,860 vacant lots and 5,160 improved lots that have reverted to it, while taxes were being paid by 12,884 privately owned and improved lots, and 2,200 vacant lots in the hands of the public, he said.

The 1909 boom was felt throughout Western Canada and large areas in the United States, and people at that time clamored for the assessment to be raised, feeling that their property suffered from "unfair" valuation, and so the total assessment, which had been just over a million and a half in 1874, went to $26,288,892 in 1910, and over $71,000,000 in 1912, reaching a still higher figure in 1914 when it was the record figure of $89,151,990, Mr. Shaw stated.

In 1916, he continued, the clamor was as great but the other way round; then citizens begged for a reduction and the assessment went down to $62,641,000. In 1928 it was much lower, $25,396,000, and now in 1943 the cycle was completed with a return to less than the 1910 level, just over $18,500,000.

Now taxes are computed on 100 per cent. of the land value, and 65 per cent. of the improvements, and the problem facing the City Council was to dispose of the large number of reverted properties in such a way as to benefit the taxpayer to the greatest degree.

By selling at a lowered value Victoria would be better able to attract home builders who have been building in outlying municipalities where taxation was lower, said Mr. Shaw. The 1940 National Housing Plan had done a great deal toward disposing of idle lots and a definite policy would have to be adopted if the city were to dispose of most of the reverted property within the next decade, which he believed desirable.

"It is up to us to turn this liability of vacant lots into a live asset," he said, "we have all the natural advantages that attract residents and we could have a much lower tax rate; a drop of 10 per cent in the mill rate is quite within possibility."

Harold D. Patterson, real estate manager of the Royal Trust Company, moved that a committee be formed to study the question of policy to be followed in order to dispose of idle property to the best advantage, and to submit their suggestions to the authorities, and this was adopted by the members of the Real Estate Board.

Discussion was carried on by R. H. Shanks, Major H. C. Holmes, H. Lethaby and others. Alderman T. W. Hawkins, chairman of the lands committee, and D. K. Kennedy, building inspector, were among the guests of the board.

Trustee Stands By Resignation

Frank Tupman, who announced his resignation from the Saanich School Board on Tuesday, said yesterday that he will stand by his resignation in spite of the board's decision to ask him to reconsider.

"The reasons for my resignation have already been published," he said, "and as I feel that the responsibility now rests with the Department of Education, I have no further statement to make."

In announcing their joint resignation on Tuesday, Mr. Tupman and J. R. L. Burridge said they could not accept the responsibility of serving on a board that would not take what they consider to be necessary steps for the protection of the welfare of students at a large Saanich school.

At its meeting on Wednesday night the board accepted Mr. Burridge's resignation, and voted to have Mr. Tupman reconsider his action.

To Protest Sugar Ration Situation

A public meeting will be called one day next week by Sydney Pickles, president of District "A," Farmers' Institutes, to protest the sugar situation in regard to home canning, and to which all farmers' and women's institutes, other organizations and the general public will be invited to attend.

Mr. Pickles said last night he is taking this action because of a "highly unsatisfactory" letter he received from S. R. Noble, sugar administrator, Ottawa, in reply to a telegram requesting information regarding sugar allotments. Extracts of Mr. Noble's reply are as follows:

"We cannot enter into a discussion with you regarding the merits of various uses of sugar; neither can we furnish you with statistics asked for, nor discuss the reasons for policies in force.

"Regular canners of fruit are supplied with whatever amount of sugar they need. The question of supplies for home canning is another matter.

"There is not the slightest use of your continuing to send us long telegraphic messages discussing the relative merits of jam and alcohol or soft drinks."

Broker Will Attend Eastern Conference

Six other British Columbia men from the Mainland, will attend the convention with Mr. Henderson.

Victoria Boys' Band Will Parade Today

The Victoria Boys' Band will parade through the city at 2.30 p.m. today, with new members following the musicians to illustrate the band's recent growth. They will muster for the parade at the store of Alderman P. E. George, 719 Pandora Avenue.

The band expressed thanks for donations received during the parade on Thursday night, and a wish for contributions of discarded musical instruments.

In Collision—Automobiles driven by Thomas A. Warswick, Glen Lake, and Cameron Bearse, 304 Oswego Street, sustained damage at 7.30 o'clock yesterday morning when they collided at Belleville and Menzies Street.

[illegible] each fined $2.50 yesterday in city police court for various infractions of parking regulations. A taxi company paid a $5 fine for engaging a driver who did not possess a chauffeur's licence.

Are Remanded—Norman M. McLean and Alexander Moshuk, naval ratings, were charged yesterday in city police court with taking an automobile on Thursday without the consent of C. W. Fleming, 2239 Oak Bay Avenue, the owner. Both were released in the custody of a superior officer and remanded until this morning.

Dangerous Driving — John D. Smith, represented by Sinclair Elliott, was fined $25 yesterday in city police court for driving in a manner dangerous to the public. Evidence of a collision in which a truck operated by Gilbert Partridge, Royal Oak, sustained damage, was given by Constables Charles Webb and Brooke Douglass.

False Alarm—Fire department apparatus and the police patrol raced to the intersection of Douglas and Johnson Streets at 2.40 o'clock yesterday afternoon in response to what drivers thought was a fire alarm. They found that a boy aged four years, waiting for a bus with his parents, had climbed an electric light pole and turned in a box alarm without their knowledge.

Judgment Held — Judge H. H. Shandley reserved judgment yesterday in County Court in the action of Fakir Chand vs. Hurdit Singh and the Avagon Lumber Co., Goldstream. Through Patrick J. Sinnott, the plaintiff, Fakir claimed $351.43, representing the balance of wages allegedly due for work performed at Goldstream between May 6 and October 17, 1941. Gordon A. Cameron appeared for Hurdit. Representatives of the lumber company failed to put in an appearance.

Pleads Guilty to Serious Charge

Dorothy Dempster pleaded guilty yesterday in city police court to a charge of being the keeper of a disorderly house at 341 Berwick Street, a newly-completed Wartime Housing Limited dwelling in the James Bay district. She was remanded until this morning for sentence by Magistrate Henry C. Hall.

One girl pleaded guilty to a charge of being an inmate of the house, and was also remanded for sentence. Another, represented by Sinclair Elliott, pleaded not guilty to a similar charge and was remanded until today for trial.

A shipyard riveter pleaded not guilty to a charge of being found on the premises without lawful excuse and was released on bail of $25 and remanded until today.

Two naval ratings and a member of the R.C.A.F. were also charged with being found on the premises and were released in custody of superior officers until this morning. The navy men pleaded not guilty, but the airman made no plea.

It was stated last night by an official of Wartime Housing Limited that 341 Berwick Street was rented after the usual investigation of the applicant by shipyard and Wartime Housing officials. The present lessee is stated to be a skilled shipyard mechanic, who is married and a returned soldier from the present war.

Sportsmen Arrive For Holiday Visit

Elmer Todd, managing director of The Seattle Daily Times, and Mrs. Todd, with Mr. and Mrs. Miller Freeman, arrived here yesterday and are staying at the Empress Hotel. They motored from Seattle to Vancouver, where they spent a few days before embarking for Victoria.

Mr. Freeman, president of Pacific Motorboat and international authority on fisheries and salmon conservation, says he is not, here on business this time, but simply for a holiday.

Mr. Todd comes here annually to play golf in the seniors tournaments, and both have been frequent visitors.

Invite Servicemen to Attend Sunday Outing

Servicemen will be welcome on a hike to be held by the Sō-Ed group of the Victoria Y.M.C.A. on Sunday, Mrs. Helen Simpson, co-educational secretary of the "Y" announced yesterday.

Those attending will meet at the Y.M.C.A. at 1 p.m. on Sunday, she said, and will travel to Mount Douglas Park by bicycle and bus. A programme of games and entertainment has been planned for the afternoon, she said.

To Drop Lesser Charge

William Mitchell, who faces a murder charge next week, appeared again yesterday in city police court on a statutory charge, and was remanded until Monday. Claude L. Harrison, city prosecutor, stated he was inclined to withdraw the charge and wished time to consider such a course.

Mitchell will appear in Saanich police court next Thursday afternoon on a charge of murdering Anita Margaret (Molly) Justice, fifteen, on January 18.

Traffic Meters Prove Popularity Of City Y.M.C.A.

With the aid of traffic meters, it was learned that almost 3,500 persons visited the local Y.M.C.A. building on the week-end of May 29 and 30, according to a report made at the board of directors luncheon meeting in the "Y" yesterday by J. V. Johnson, chairman of the house committee.

[illegible] almost 2,700 were servicemen, with 1,650 men in uniform visiting the building on the Saturday. Since there is no canteen or entertainment, and but a small dormitory, the men must visit the building for the comfort and service they receive, Mr. Johnson said.

The board passed on a recommendation from the house committee that after July 1 all applicants for residence must sign membership forms. Suggested building alterations recommended by the committee also were passed.

It was announced that the next board meeting will be held in September, and that the executive will deal with all matters of importance in the interim. An official welcome was extended by the board to Rev. A. O. Morrison, new boys' work secretary.

In his report, Frank Paulding, general secretary, reviewed staff changes and work of the Citizens' War Service and Community Chest Campaign Committees. Harold Wilson will act as chairman of the latter this year, he said.

W. T. Straith, K.C., M.P.P., president of the board and chairman at the meeting, gave the war services report. Other reports were submitted by the following committee chairmen: P. A. Gibbs, financial; H. B. Witter, physical; S. J. D. Clack, boys' work; Jack Syme, social and education; J. A. Heritage, religious and foreign service.

Premier Supports Salvage Venture

Premier John Hart gave his support yesterday to an appeal for the salvaging of 20,000,000 pounds of used tires and inner tubes with his mention of salvage work in a telegram to A. H. Wilford, president of Transport News, Toronto.

Advice of the need of scrap rubber for war purposes had reached him through the Salvage Corps of British Columbia, Mr. Hart said, and he continued as follows:

"While it is true that the more obvious supply of used tires and inner tubes has already been salvaged, there must still be much material lying around that could be put to use. Consequently I would strongly recommend to every household and business establishment that all tires and tubes they may have be turned over to the various salvage corps or dealers and thereby placed at the disposal of those charged with the responsibility of securing as much rubber as possible for war needs."

Use of Loose Coupons Liable to Penalties

Loose coupons may not be used for the purchase of rationed commodities, it was emphasized yesterday by the ration office of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board in a warning to the public and retailers.

Violations of this type have been reported, it was announced, and both the retailer and purchaser are liable to penalties for offering or accepting loose coupons, which are invalid.

A request was made by the board to the public that retailers not be asked to accept coupons before their valid date.

Private Car Not "A Public Place"

Since the "public" does not have "access" to a privately-owned automobile, drinking while in a car is not necessarily a violation of provincial liquor regulations, according to the findings of a Kamloops magistrate, Arthur Rankin, who held that the accused had not been "drinking in a public place."

The Supreme Court of Alberta is said to have made a similar ruling some time ago. "The Kamloops case" said Attorney-General R. L. Maitland, K.C., yesterday, "is rather far reaching, as the time to take a case to Supreme Court in such matters is very limited."

Mr. Maitland has asked for a stated case from the magistrate to the Supreme Court immediately, in order that the right of appeal will not be lost before the time for appeal expires.

RADIO IN THE SKIES! Canadian factories are producing revolutionary new radio sets for the fighting aircraft of the United Nations. The making of radio equipment is now one of Canada's most important war-time contributions.

In spirit, he flies to Berlin with our bombers

STEADILY, along the assembly lines in the Rogers Majestic plant, pours an ever-increasing flow of radio apparatus for the giant bombers of the United Nations.

And as each worker carefully does his allotted task, he thinks of the gallant airmen who rely on these radios—and in his heart, he humbly wishes them "good hunting and good luck".

Everyone realizes that now, as never before, the Rogers Majestic tradition of quality craftsmanship must be maintained. The efficiency of radio in today's global war is vital to victory.

No. 2096

A BY-LAW

To Restrict the Closing of Shops Where the Business of a Barber Is Carried On

WHEREAS By-Law No. 2023, entitled "Barber Shop Closing By-Law, 1938," Barber Shops are required to close at one o'clock in the afternoon on the Wednesday in every week in respect of which the provisions of the "Weekly Half Holiday Act" apply;

And whereas an application has been presented to the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria, praying for the passing of a by-law amending the aforesaid by-law by requiring the closing of Barber Shops at twelve o'clock on Wednesdays instead of one o'clock as aforesaid, and the Council is satisfied that the said application is signed by not less than three-quarters in number of the licensed occupiers of shops within the City under municipal licences issued in respect of those shops and belonging to the class to which the said application relates;

And whereas under the provisions of the "Shops Regulation Act," the Municipal Council is required to pass a by-law giving effect to the said application and requiring all such shops to be closed during the period of the year and at the times and hours mentioned in the said application;

And whereas by By-Law No. 1027 of the Corporation of the City of Victoria, the aforesaid By-Law No. 2023 was amended by striking out the words "on Wednesdays wherever they appear in said by-law;

Now therefore the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria enacts as follows:

1. By-Law No. 2023 is hereby amended by repealing Subsection (b) of Section 3 thereto, and substituting therefor the following:

"(b) On the Wednesday in every week in respect of which the provisions of the Weekly Half Holiday Act apply in the closing of shops as defined by that Act, they shall be closed at twelve o'clock noon, and remain closed until eight-thirty o'clock in the forenoon of the following day."

2. This by-law shall take effect on the 23rd day of June, 1943, and shall be published by the Municipal Clerk in The Victoria Daily Times and in The Victoria Daily Colonist on the 19th day of June, 1943.

3. This by-law may be cited as the "Barber Shop Closing By-Law, 1938, Amendment By-Law (No. 1), 1943."

Passed the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria this 31st day of May, 1943.

Reconsidered, adopted and finally passed the Council this 16th day of June, 1943.

"Dina Cashman"

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

CHAPTER LX

"Well, Dina, it all broke on me then. Vere is the man over whom she's been breaking her heart, I thought, and all I've been is a sort of spare-tire comforter, somebody to amuse her with his devotion if she can't get the man she wants to marry. Vere is the father of Margaret, of course, and Dina'll not feel things are right unless she marries him."

"And I came out here now expecting to—find you married to Vere," Andy finished.

"No, never that," she told him, smiling into his eyes. He put his arm about her, and in the silence of the hot, still, deserted hour, they kissed each other.

* * *

Dina was standing in the garden one August afternoon, watering the thirsty flowers in a hot, lingering sunset and holding with her free hand a letter from Andy, when Rogers walked around the corner of the house and saw her.

Andy, the letter said, wanted her to come down to the city to see his murals.

She looked up and saw Rogers. The sight of him, homely and fat and goggle-eyed, yet always a friendly and reassuring presence to her at least, gave her such surprise and pleasure that she had put her arm about his neck and kissed him before she had time for thought.

"Rogers!: You're back!"

"Hello, my dear." He was glad to see her, too. His glasses were frosted, and he took them off and wiped them.

"It's good to see you," Dina said. "Was it a wonderful trip? It sounded so from what Mr. Callaghan said."

"Then you've seen Callaghan?"

"No, I didn't. But Andy did. Andy Havens. Did you see Callaghan?"

"I've not seen anyone. I got home this morning about ten and took a look at my mail. Then I knew I had to see you."

"I wrote you to know if the divorce had gone through." Dina said simply, her eyes widened childishly on a smile.

"Well, of course, you should have been told," he said, blinking his bulging eyes. "No, there's been no divorce."

"No divorce!"

"No. That's what I came to see you about. I don't want a divorce."

"Why, Rogers! I don't understand. Guess I must be dreaming."

"No, I was the one that was dreaming. I dreamed about one woman for twenty years," he said. "I'm awake."

"You quarreled?"

"No, we didn't quarrel. I went away before she got back from New York. But she wrote me. She wants to go on with it. I can't."

"She certainly doesn't want to go on with it if you don't?"

"Oh, not for any affection she feels for me," the man answered bitterly. "I guess it's the money—just plain money. Eventually alimony, perhaps. Quite suddenly," he said in a more moderate tone, "I saw it all, like a villain in the play. I saw Aline for exactly what she's always been, a very beautiful, clever, selfish woman where her interests are concerned and a mighty stupid one in everything else. She's been told since she was fifteen that she can enslave men, make them jump through hoops—through wedding rings. It's partly true. But lord, when you once see her as she is, there isn't much to see."

Dina looked at him dubiously, looked away.

"But—but didn't she count on marrying you, Rogers?"

"Yes, and I counted on her loving me, too, that I was. But I suddenly woke up; it came to me like a flash, and I saw things right. So I sent her a letter—sent it the day I sailed for Honolulu. I told her I'd changed, and it was only fair for her to know it; better then than after we were married."

"And she . . .?"

"Oh, she sent me a letter clipper mail. Like an idiot I gave her my address. It was a kindly, motherly letter—a perfect bit of acting. She wrote that after so many years I didn't know my own mind. She told me she loved me too clearly—a lot of rot. She said she wasn't going to say a word to anyone, but as soon as I got back to California she'd have a talk with me and she was sure she could convince me that marrying her was the perfect solution. She wouldn't believe that I had ducked the divorce from you."

"She was wild," Dina said, awed. "Perfectly wild."

"Yes, I think she was. But her letter was friendly enough; she said—oh, a lot of guff. There's no use in repeating her nonsense."

"What did you answer?"

"The day after I got the letter I sailed. I'd already booked passage."

"So you didn't write?"

"There was nothing to say."

"But, Rogers," Dina said in a relieved voice, "of course Aline must know it's all over. You left in February, so Mr. Callaghan said, now it's the middle of August. If you sent no word in all that time, surely she must realize now——"

"This was among my mail when I got home," he said, handing over a blue sheet dashingly covered with writing.

"My own Toppy," Dina read. "Callaghan tells me that you're due next week, so I'm planning to leave Dolly's place at the Rogue Monday the nineteenth and will see you the next night. Let Caroline and me come over for dinner; we'll have a cocktail in the dear old library first and plan. Such a long absence and such complete silence, but I know my old boy through and through. I'm not going to let you get so far away from me ever again. I suppose it must be the stupid delay of Reno first, but I think we might put that up so Dina if you made it forceful enough, and after that I'll be entirely your Aline."

"That's tomorrow night. What—what nonsense!" Dina said indignantly, handing back the letter.

"Nonsense, yes, but she meant it."

"She has—I

Much Business Conducted At Diocesan W.A. Meeting

British Columbia Diocesan W.A. Board meeting was held at St. Luke's on Friday, with the president, Mrs. F. J. Brimer, in the chair. The opening prayers were led by Mrs. F. W. Midgley, president of St. Luke's branch, who also extended a hearty welcome to the members. The scripture reading was taken by Mrs. C. Welchman.

The members stood in silent tribute to the memory of Mrs. A. G. Price, of St. John's, and Mrs. J. M. [illegible]

Satisfactory reports were received from the officers, the treasurer showing a balance on hand of $2,697.34, and stating that half the pledge fund for the year had been received. The Dorcas secretary, Mrs. J. E. Neilans, reported that several bales and cartons of good clothing were packed and ready to be dispatched to Alert Bay School and to Saskatchewan for Prairie relief. She also read the report of the hospital convener, which said that a generous amount of articles had been received, and that several hospital showers had been held by various branches. A bale containing eighty-seven articles had been sent to St. Michael's Hospital, Rock Bay, and forty-seven articles, mostly for women and babies, had been sent to Nurse Drummond-Hay, at Hondo, Alberta, and gratefully acknowledged by her. A large bale of supplies will soon be sent to the hospital at Alert Bay.

Miss M. E. Rathbone, educational secretary, reported a growing interest in the study about missionary work.

TELLS OF EXTRA CENT FUND

Mrs. Brimer, in the absence of Mrs. T. A. Andrews, gave a short talk on the Extra Cent Fund, and Mrs. F. E. L. Philp, magazine secretary, said a large quantity of reading matter was ready to put on board the John Antle when it came into port, and reminded the members that this work goes on all Summer.

Mrs. Hopkins, W.A. representative on the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, spoke about pamphlets and literature in that connection.

Mrs. G. T. Hughes reported on the drive for new members, and said this would be continued in the Fall.

Mrs. R. C. Keane, junior secretary, said that the junior banner had been won by the branch at Comox.

Mrs. F. Goodwin reported a girls' branch reorganized at Comox, while Miss B. P. Foster brought news of progress in the branches in the central part of the diocese Up-Island.

Mrs. Brimer took the noon-day prayers and at the afternoon session Miss Foster led the intercessions.

PRESENT LIFE MEMBERSHIP

A pleasing part of the programme was the presentation of a diocesan life membership to Mrs. Spencer H. Elliott, from the three senior Cathedral branches in token of their affection and esteem. Mrs. Brimer read the service and Mrs. E. H. Bird pinned on the badge. The certificate was presented by Miss W. F. N. Caldicott and a corsage bouquet of pink roses by Miss N. Hensley.

GUEST SPEAKER, MISS CARRUTHERS

The outstanding event of the day was the address by Miss Ruth Carruthers, field secretary of the Woman's Auxiliary. Speaking first of the four great aims of the auxiliary: "To work, to give, to learn, to pray," she said the first two often overshadowed the last two, but unless there was knowledge about the work, successful achievement could not be as great; and that if prayer and the spiritual side were more stressed the work would be greatly stimulated. She stated that the W.A. was one of the largest voluntary organizations of women in the world.

Referring to girls' work, she said that too much time was taken up with other things under this educational system, taking time from spiritual development, and unless the ideals needed for the betterment of the world are taught to young people the postwar world will show no improvement.

Quoting the words of Lord Grey before the last war, when he said: "The lights are going out all over Europe tonight. We shall hardly see them rekindled in our time"; she spoke of what the world has been doing to rekindle those lights and drew a picture of some of the lights the Christian Church has kept burning since then and all through this present war.

From all the conquered countries of Europe and even from Germany there has come a steady flow of reports of the great spiritual revival that is breaking out in all those places; lights appearing when one would wonder how they could survive.

MISSIONS GIVE HELP

There are also the 120 orphaned missions to whom help has been extended by more fortunate people so that not one need has gone unanswered nor one missionary withdrawn.

In this land lights are burning and the church is progressing in many sections. There are many in lonely spots working to keep the light of Christianity burning, often small groups of women of the W.A. carrying on services where no clergy are available, upheld and backed by the W.A. all across Canada, without which this great work could not go on, remarked the speaker.

Even in Japan, where it is not easy to be a Christian, many young native clergy and teachers are still carrying on, it is reported.

In India the lights in many places are burning very brightly, where the ten million Christians have an influence out of all proportion to their numbers.

THE LIGHT IN CHINA

But it is in China that the light of the Christian Church burns most brightly, said Miss Carruthers. China, at the present time, has one of the most Christian governments of the world, and among its most prominent citizens one in every six is a Christian, and at least half of them have been educated at Christian schools and colleges. Also in their educational institutions and hospitals and among their civic officials the Christian influence is very strong. Thousands who have graduated from Christian schools are going out all over the country carrying out ideals they have learned. Christianity is really responsible for the extraordinary resistance that China has put up. The churches in China are crowded because the people want to hear and know, and the challenge to the Western World is very great to send out highly educated missionaries to lead them and to keep the light burning.

At the close of the meeting a very appreciative vote of thanks to the speaker and to the members of St. Luke's Branch for their hospitality was voiced by Mrs. E. H. Bird.

Final Census Figures Show 47.8 Per Cent

OTTAWA, June 18 (CP).—The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today that final census figures showed that persons who have not married constituted 54.1 per cent of Canada's population of 11,506,655 in 1941, and that Quebec showed the largest number of unmarried persons in proportion to population, and British Columbia the highest ratio of married persons.

The bureau said married persons accounted for 41.2 per cent of the Dominion's population in 1941, widowed 4.6 per cent and divorced 1 per cent. In 1931, 37.4 per cent of the population was enumerated as unmarried and only 3.3 per cent as married.

The actual increase in the number of married persons amounted to 764,953 or 19.3 per cent, while the number of unmarried persons showed a much smaller increase over 1931 of 279,156, or only 4.7 per cent.

SIXTY PER CENT IN QUEBEC UNMARRIED

Unmarried persons of all ages represented 60.3 per cent of the population of Quebec, and married persons 35.7 per cent. In British Columbia, 47.8 per cent of the population was married, and only 46.5 per cent not married. Ontario also showed a large proportion of married persons with 45.1 per cent of the population enumerated as married and 49.4 per cent as unmarried.

All provinces showed an increase in the number of married persons since 1931. The number of unmarried persons, however, declined in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, and showed only slight relative increases in Ontario and Alberta.

The distribution by sex showed that of the 6,230,568 unmarried persons in Canada, 53.3 per cent were males, a ratio almost identical to that in 1931.
